FROM MADISON.

Reorganization of our Courts—A Field Day—General Howe's Lecture.

MADISON, Feb. 2, 1860.

DEAR SENTINEL:—Among all the reforms mentioned, I have seen nothing respecting the reorganization of our Courts. I think any one who is familiar with the working of our present system, will acknowledge that all rottenness isn't in Denmark. We now have ten Circuit Judges and three Judges on the Supreme Bench. The principles involved in the Judicial decisions are of immense importance to our State. The late decision of the Supreme Court in the case of JAMES H. KNOWLTON against the Board of Supervisors of Rock County, has startled the Railroads, and well it may. If the opinion is followed to its logical consequences, every road must be taxed like other property, and that would smash them to pieces in a year. In some of these cases, where late opinions are read to support extreme points, the Court say that "the language of the opinions was not intended to bear that construction."—Why is language sent out of our Supreme Court that will bear a construction not intended? Simply because we have very ingenious word-stretching lawyers? No, it is because the opinions are hastily written.

Our Supreme Bench is filled with able, hard-working Judges—men of unimpeachable characters and integrity, and unsullied life. They work night and day, doing more than any lawyers in the State who are in active practice; and yet they are a long ways behind the business of Court. There are now many important decisions to be made, and cases to be tried. But no matter how important the businesss is, it must be dispatched in haste. This is an evil, and a great one. It calls for the formation of a new system. Why can we not have the State divided into three circuits, and three Judges put in each one?

A single Judge should hold Court in the counties as they are now held, and the three Judges should sit in banc, in each county, once a year, and determine appeals from the regular circuit. This would save the people thousands of dollars yearly, and would not increase the number of Judges. Every lawyer knows that a Circuit Judge is not immaculate. He has his prejudices; he has his frets and his vanities. There is generally an influence of some kind that will operate upon him in important cases. If the circuits were enlarged and a different Judge sat in a county at each term of the Court, these influences would not be used. A Judge could not favor his pets or prejudices, as he would sit in a new county each term.

Then there would be the appeal to the general term of the three Judges, and from them, an appeal to the Supreme Court—None but questions of great importance would then be brought to our Supreme Court, and they would be argued with ability. The opinions of the Court would be written with care, and would, in all probability, "have a a tendency" to settle something. As it is, we are ridden to death by Judges. It is as much as a young lawyer's reputation is worth, to openly oppose the re-election of a Judge,, in one of our Circuits. He dare not do it, though he may know him to be corrupt. A Judge can ruin him, and his clients, and there is no escape. He must leave the Circuit or leave the practice. In the system proposed, the "one horse power" would be abolished, and speedy justice would be done.

A FIELD DAY.

Yesterday was a field day in the House.—The Democrats were determined to "stave off," and the Republicans were bound to bring Democracy "to Limerick." They brought 'em. The leaders of the Goths acknowledged themselves beaten, and withdrew their motions. The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the Governor's Message, and adjourned. To-day, they have been referring the Message to the proper committees, and will not do much till they report.

GENERAL HOWE'S LECTURE.

Attorney General Howe delivered a lecture here this evening, on "Charles Dicken's." I was somewhat surprised at the youthful appearance of the lecturer. He is a large, powerful man, apparently about thirty years of age, with a large head, and bold, high forehead, crowned with black hair. He entered into a very able and philosophical discussion on the Ideal and Actual; showing that good novels were a crystalization of the Real in live. While this showed elegance and culture, the warm "God-bless-you" greeting given to some of DICKEN's best characters exhibited the noble impulses and generous sympathies which have won for the lecturer so many warm friends in this State. He was warmly welcomed by a large audience. HORACE RUBLEE delivers the next lecture, Feb. 9th, on "The Good Old Times," and a good old time it will be, too. Why don't you Milwaukeeans have home lectures, (I don't mean privately after you retire,) and see if won't cut down the taxes?

Yours, INVARIABLE.

THE ICE BOAT.—Positively the last announcement.—We have heard that Mr. John J. Chase received a letter from Mr. Wiard, some time since, stating that his Ice Boat was to have left New York for Prairie du Chien last Monday morning. If it did so start, and on a freight train, it will probably be here in ten days—or about the middle of next week. When it comes we shall all see it.—P. du Chien Leader, 2nd.

Petitions are being circulated asking the Legislature to authorize the people of this county to vote, at the next spring election, upon the question of dividing the county upon the north line of the town of Eastman, and the erection of two new counties: the southern one to consist of the towns of Prairie du Chien, Eastman and Wauzeka, and northern one of all the towns in the county above Eastman with a slice of Badax.—Ib.

ANOTHER RIVER STEAMER.—Mr. Sorensen, an experienced boat builder, is now constructing in West Depere, for Mr. D. M. Loy, a steamer exclusively for the freighting business between Green Bay and Lake Winnebago and its tributaries. She is to be 120 feet long, 32 feet beam, and 6 feet hold—giving her the freighting capacity of four such boats as the Morgan L. Martin, and plenty of room for more. The engines of the steamer Aquila have been purchased for this new boat, and it is intended to have her completed in time for early spring business.—Green Bay Advocate.

Mr. Gangooly on New England Winters.

Rev. J. G. Gangooly, the converted Brahmin, has published in the Boston Transcript the following interesting account of his personal experiences and impressions from change of climate:

BOSTON, Jan. 9, 1860.

MR. EDITOR:—Wherever I go, the first thing I am asked is my impression of the winter. "How do you bear our New England winter, sir?" "Does not the weather affect your health?" etc., are the inquiries of my friends. I answer, I would say I bear the cold as well as anybody, and like the American winter, it is so full of new and amusing scenes to me. The skating, sleighing, snows, queer-looking caps, tippets, &c., are all novelties to me.

Before coming to this country I had heard about the western winter—of water frozen so hard that heavy teams easily passed over it—of the ground covered with snow several feet deep. These accounts I believed in part, but the rest sounded to me like a grandmother's story. Of course I saw ice in Calcutta, imported from Boston, but was puzzled to know how water could be so hard by freezing. This was a very natural perplexity, because I had no idea of the thing at all. When I told the ladies here that the Hindoos boil simple milk so hard that they make dolls, flowers, &c., out of it to adorn their tables, they hardly believed it until I did the experiment before their eyes. They by their own hands made flowers of different shape and size, which, by half an hour, became hard as rock.

As it was a year before last May I came to this country, I enquired of my friends how soon the snow would fall and the water freeze. I used to look through the windows early in the morning to see if there was any snow on the ground. In September I noticed something white on the ground. I rushed out in ecstacy and told my friends about it. Can you imagine my disappointment when they told me it was mere frost? In Boston I saw the first snow. Astonished, I stood to watch the flakes falling from the sky. "Father," said I, "thus thy blessings fall upon us, abundantly and impartially, upon the good and the evil alike." I wished very much that my Bengalee friends could see such a sight; and finding it was impossible, thought of some way to send them a little relic of the white mud. I made a solid heavy snow-ball, which seemed so durable in the open air, that I hoped to send it to India by the first opportunity. I took it to Mr. M.'s and carefully put it on the mantlepiece. Need I tell you the result? It is well known to you all.

In my letters to Bengal I described the leading features of an American winter, but could not write anything about freezing; hoped to do it by and by, after I had some experience of it. Would you smile, Mr. Editor, when I say I really wished to freeze a little, just to know what the sensation was? but the Indian heat was so much in me that no such thing has occurred yet. I dare say there will be some chance this winter for me to understand freezing. You remember the cold days you had last January; I rode then several miles in the country in an open sleigh, without a scarf or anything to cover my ears.

The second winter is said to be more trying to a tropical man than the first. There is some truth in the assertion, but not a great deal. Last winter I did not have an overcoat until Christmas; this season I wore it in October; I did not wear gloves most of the time; this winter, besides the mittens, I put my hands in my pockets. This is not for the cold, though; I fear I have learned a Yankee habit. Last Monday I rode seventeen miles in an open sleigh, and did not suffer more than my companions. My health is, on the whole, better in this country. My friends tell me to eat meat, even if it is a very little, and to drink some warm drink, but I cannot do so. I never ate any meat, or used any drink but that which comes out of the bosom of our mother earth

Now and then I wish to be in India to see the land smile, the flowers bloom, and the birds sing in these months. On the late Christmas, your churches were decorated with leaves only—there were hardly any flowers there. In Calcutta, you could cover the churchyard with a few dollars worth of flowers; you could entertain a party of twenty ladies and gentlemen, for instance, with fourteen kinds of fruit at the expense of two dollars. Contrasts like these create a bit of home-sickness in me, but I cover it up with the garment of duty, and go on in my way rejoicing, singing and praising the glory of the Most High.

J. C. GANGOOLY.

FIRE IN SCANDINAVIA.—Last Thursday about 11 o'clock at night, a fire was discovered in the store of A. GASMAN & Co., of Scandinavia, Waupaca county, and before anything, except part of the books, could be removed, the building was enveloped in flames, and communicating so rapidly to the dwelling house of Mr. ADOLPH SORENSON, that it was with great difficulty that his sick mother could be rescued. Loss $5,000. Insured in the Ætna for $3,800.

FIRE IN LANARK.—A most remarkable fire happened in the store of Mr. STETSON, in Lanark, Portage county. The fire probably caught last Saturday, from the pipe of some smoker, and on Monday morning they found the charred remains of about $600 worth of cotton goods which had been destroyed by a slow, smothered and inactive fire, which had gone out, doing no further damage. Fully insured.

ACCIDENT.—Our editor was considerably injured by being thrown from a cutter last week, and has been confined to the house for some days. He was driving on the Wolf River road, about two miles from town, when his cutter capsized and he was thrown out, striking the ground upon his head and shoulder. He held fast to the reins, and the horse became frightened and dragged him some distance and finally, the reins breaking, got away and made a general smash-up.

Whatever lack there is in our editorial columns, must be attributed to this mishap.—Green Bay Advocate.

THE ICE is splendid. The recent warm weather melted off the snow, and left an even, polished surface; it is about two feet thick, and solid as terra firma. Skates are in great demand; everybody is skating—young and old—men, matrons and maids. We have our weaknesses. We like to see little feminine feet on little feminine skates, and watch their graceful motions on the ice—healthy forms and ruddy faces touch our weak spot, and when we feel blue we will go down on the ice, for there we shall find them; we will take our skates along, and have a race with the fair ones. This healthy practice for ladies cannot be too highly commended. Ladies; if you won't learn to skate from your own inclination, do it because it is fashionable.—Ib.

ON THE TRAIN ONCE MORE.—Those accustomed to travel over the Milwaukee, Watertown and Columbus Railroad, will be glad to welcome back to his position, Mr. H. C. Atkins, the intelligent and courteous Conductor on that line. He has so nearly recovered from the accident he met with some two months since, that he was able last week to again enter upon the discharge of his duties. A more pleasant and agreeable gentleman to ride with, or one more ready to extend to either acquaintance or stranger every kindness in his power, is seldom to be found in a Railroad Officer, and yet while watching over the comfort and safety of his passengers, he keeps a sharp and active look out for the interests of those whose agent he is.—Watertown Dem.

THE LESSONS OF THE CONTEST.—The N. Y. Tribune, referring to the contest for the Speakership, says:

> One lesson, taught by the doings of this eventful day, will not be lost upon the honest and intelligent portion of the Northern Democracy, viz: That though it has been impossible, during this eight weeks' contest, to induce the Southern Democrats even once to unite their votes on Speaker upon any member of the party from the Free States, yet the Southern members have compelled their Northern allies to support a Whig-Know-Nothing, simply because he was a slaveholder and dwelt south of the Potomac.

The correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, treating of the same subject, remarks as follows:

> Every one admires the magnificent manner in which Sherman's friends changed to Pennington. In all the history of Congressional tactics there was never so fine a manoeuvre. The generals were changed without a word of command, for no nomination was made in the caucus. There was no need that our men should explain their votes, they felt they were doing right. They were not under the necessity of hiding in the misty envelope of generalities or inconsistency.

MELANCHOLY.—A little girl about three years of age, with its mother, got on board the cars at Janesville last night with the intention of coming to Madison. When about seven miles east of here the child was taken suddenly ill and died in its mother's arms.—We learn that the lady's name is Reese.—Madison Journal, Feb. 2.

FESTIVAL PERFORMANCE—CHAPMAN'S POEM.—A grand musical and poetical entertainment will be given at Albany Hall on Friday evening, for the benefit of the library of the Young Men's Association, under the auspices of a Committee of its Directors. Notwithstanding the brilliant success of the course of lectures, the Association scarcely receives more than enough to pay the large current expenses of its library and reading room. It still needs funds to replenish its shelves with the many new volumes issuing constantly from the press, and to replace those lost or worn out. Unless it has larger means to employ in this way, it must fall behind and be unable to keep pace with the demands of the public. The Association struggles gallantly with great difficulties, and every good man who wishes to see the young men of the city moral, industrious and cultivated, should endeavor to assist it.

The entertainment on Friday evening will be of a rare character. Mr. Chapman's beautiful poem, "A Tribute to Kane," which there has been so much interest to hear, will be read by Mr. John B. D. Cogswell, one of the Directors. It will be recollected that this poem was read by Park Benjamin in Philadelphia, and elicited the warmest admiration. The Musical Society, with Balatka to conduct, will perform some of their choicest music. Emil Weinberg will work his wonted wonders upon the violin, and Messrs. Markt and Hoelz Shuber will contribute the aid of their noble voices to the entertainment. The tickets are placed at the cheap rate of twenty-five cents each, and every seat in that hall ought to be occupied.

For particulars, see advertisement elsewhere.

NEW DRY DOCKS.—The busiest part of town at present is at the foot of South Water Street, just South of the harbor. There will be found sixty men or more, cutting, cleaving, sawing and nailing; making quite a merry noise with their tools, and rearing great timbers in the construction of those new "dry," or floating docks. This is the enterprise of Messrs. WOLF & LAWRENCE, of this city. The docks are larger than any ever built here, being 40 by 50 feet, and six feet deep, capable of lifting 250 tons each, or accommodating the largest vessels that navigate the Lake. These three huge affairs are to be located at the foot of Biddle Street in the Milwaukee River when completed, and will unquestionably be a a valuable acquisition to our city. They will cost $2,000 each, and we are informed by the builders will be ready for business by the first of April.

MUNICIPAL COURT, FEB. 3D.—Frederick Hofer, assault and battery on wife; fine and costs, $24,00. Paid.

E. H——, assault and battery; fine and costs $9,40. Paid.

Edward Dillon, assault and battery, discharged. Complaint adjudged to be willful and malicious, and without probable cause; judgment entered against Patrick Dean, complainant, for amount of costs, taxed at $5,70, and stand committed until paid.

George Lyon, violating hay ordinance; penalty and costs $1,75. Paid.

THE GERMAN CARNIVAL SOCIETY, or as they call themselves "Die Narren," we understand, intend giving a grand theatrical entertainment at Albany Hall some time during the present month, shortly after which they will have their annual masquerade ball. The time will be fixed in the course of a few days. Those who have attended the balls and performances given under the auspices of this highly respectable society in former years, need not be told that the promised entertainment will pass off with much eclat.

TRANCE SPEAKING.—Miss BELLE SCOUGALL, a distinguished trance speaker and medium, will lecture in Good Templar's Hall, in Bowman's Block, on Sunday at 3 and 7 o'clock p. m. Admission ten cents to defray expenses. Miss SCOUGALL generally gives the audience an opportunity to select the subject, and answers questions in a trance condition. The public are respectfully invited.

MILWAUKEE AND CHICAGO RAIL ROAD.—This road is enjoying a prosperous business under the competent management of President HALL, and Superintendent MOODY. We publish in our commercial columns this morning, a statement showing the amount of freight shipped over it from this city during the month of January, which will give some idea of the extent of its traffic.

THE STORES IN YOUNG'S NEW BLOCK are gradually assuming business airs. MORTON & FOWLER are very busy "fitting up." ISBEL and LEAHY are in operation and we expect shortly to see the remainder of the stores and basements occupied.

BRANDY AND WATER BY DEGREES.—Brandy and water. Bramwater. Bramwarra. Bremwar. Bamwrwrr-rr. Brreughph!

LIFE A RIDDLE.—Yes, man is indeed a riddle: for no one can tell whether he is good dor bad until he is foun out.

FIRE IN BEAR CREEK.—The dwelling house of WELCOME HYDE, of Bear Creek, Waupacca county, took fire last week and burned to the ground. Nothing was saved from the building, which contained supplies for sixty men, among which were thirty barrels flour, twenty barrels of pork, &c. No insurance.

The Death Penalty in Wisconsin—A Memorial.

To the Honorable, the Senate, and House of Representatives of the State of Wisconsin:

The petition or memorial of the Board of Supervisors of Milwaukee County, in said State, would respectfully represent that laws which are not in accordance with the sentiments and feelings of the people, are sure not to be observed or respected.

If they make that criminal or penal, which has for a long time been practiced by all classes without the imputation of wrong, as the receiving and passing the good and current bank bills of other States under the denomination of five dollars, the law prohibiting it under a penalty is constantly and openly disregarded without even the stigma of immoral conduct.

In like manner, laws which fail to inflict the just punishment to great social and moral crimes, often being upon the heads of the offenders without the forms of a trial and the necessary safeguards of innocence, the retribution due to the imputed offences, to the great scandal of the State and the eminent hazard of the lives of the truly innocent.—Many instances of this class may be found in those states where seduction and adultery are not made criminal and punishable by law.

Of a character incomparably worse is the law of this State abolishing the death penalty for murder in the first degree. We need not remind you what has been the fruit or result of it. If the law be left as it now is, the accepting of perhaps doubtful bail to appear and answer for a few thousand, or even hundred dollars, with often months of leisure time thereby given to the murderer to manage his affairs and leave the country, as the full and legal satisfaction for a father, brother or son coolly and deliberately murdered, the next murder committed in our State may not find the forms of law observed and the arm of justice stayed until after a trial and verdict of guilty.

That our law for the punishment of murder in the first degree may conform to what we believe just and right, as well as in accordance with the sentiments and feelings of a large majority of our people, and to prevent a repetition of the scenes enacted at Janesville and West Bend, and to prevent the relatives and friends of the murdered person from inflicting that punishment upon, perhaps, an innocent person, unjustly suspected and charged before trial and against law, which is due only to the really guilty after a fair trial, and according to law, we respectfully pray you to re-enact the former law, awarding the just punishment of death for murder in the first degree, and thereby also rendering it non-bailable. And your memorialists as in duty bound will ever pray.

When at a session of the Board of Supervisors of Milwaukee County, held on the 7th day of January, A. D. 1860, after a lengthy debate, the contents as set forth in the foregoing petition or memorial were then concurred in by the following vote:

Ayes—Boyd, Dousman, Hearty, Lavis, Lippert, Niedermann, Phillips, Prentiss, Yates and Eagan.

Noes—Crawford, O'Neil, Phelps, Smith and Johnston.

Without endorsing the views and reasonings contained in the foregoing memorial, I have no hesitation in saying that I am in favor of restoring the death penalty in all cases of murder in the first degree.

ARTHUR McARTHUR,
Circuit Judge, 2d Circuit, Wis.

I am opposed to restoring the death penalty, in case of murder. E. FOOTE,

Municipal Judge, Milwaukee Co., Wis.

I consider the law, as it now stands, in relation to the punishment of murder in the first degree, little less than mockery of justice and am in favor of restoring the "death penalty" for that crime, until the constitution of the State be so amended, that it shall be non-bailable and non-pardonable, except by acts of the Legislature (two-thirds concurring) and then only upon the ground of subsequently ascertained innocence.

ALBERT SMITH,
County Judge, Milwaukee Co., Wis.

GENESEE, Wauk. Co., Jan. 30, 1860.

DEAR SIR:—Permit me, through the medium of your good and widely circulated paper, to call the attention of the public to the prompt and cheerful payment of losses by the "Ætna Insurance Company" of Hartford, Conn.

On the 1st day of the present month, my store and contents were destroyed by fire, and, it being very cold, very few of my goods were saved. I had an insurance on my building and goods in the "Ætna Insurance Co.," of $2,400. The notice of loss was promptly answered by the presence of W. H. WYMAN, Esq., of Madison, State Agent, who adjusted the claim to my entire satisfaction, and I have this morning received from W. HENRY HOLLAND, Esq., Agent at Milwaukee, the payment of full amount of my claim against said Company. Respectfully, feb3d5t CHARLES M. PATEK.

WE ARE CREDIBLY INFORMED that a gentleman of this city who recently returned from the east brought with him a painting which he bought for an "old master," and brought out to decorate his drawing room and surprise his friends—which intentions were sadly frustrated at a recent evening party by the picture turning out to be an engraving varnished.

LOST.—Left on the seat in one of the cars of the Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad at Madison, on Monday forenoon, Jan. 30th, a Printed Blank Receipt Book, wrapped in an old newspaper, with my printed card on the outside. It is of no value to any one but the owner. Any person returning the same to GEO. CHURCH, Esq., Conductor on the Road, or the undersigned, will be suitably rewarded.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS, FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

FEARFUL CALAMITY IN NEW YORK.

Fire and Loss of Life.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3—3 P. M.

Last evening, between 7 and 8 o'clock, a fire broke out in the basement of a double six story tenement house, No 42 Elm Street, The fire originated in a buttery, shot up the stairway with great rapidity, and extended to the upper floors, occupied by about 20 families. The moment the alarm was given, the scene of confusion that ensued throughout the building, was of the most heartrending character. The stairway was burned away, and of course, all chance of escape was cut off in that quarter. Men, women and children could be seen by the spectators on the side walk, clustered at windows, screaming for assistance, and wringing their hands in an agony of despair.

Some of them mustered courage enough to jump from the windows, and escaped with slight injury. Mr. Wise and his family, consisting of his wife and three children, occupied a portion of the front second floor. Mr. Wise escaped, and one child three years old was rescued, but with one leg broken. No particulars could be obtained as to what became of the rest of the family, and it is feared they were burned to death.

Isaac White with his wife and two children occupied a part of the second floor. Mr. and Mrs. W. escaped, and also two children, Eliza, aged 20, and Louise, aged 11 years; Gustave, aged 17 years, was absent. Esther, aged 15, was nearly suffocated. Pauline, aged 7, was also nearly suffocated. The two last were taken to the hospital; their injuries are not very serious.

Geo. Borduer occupied a part of the second floor, with his wife Frederica and two children; Caroline, aged four years, and Henry, aged sixteen years. Mr. B. and the two children escaped uninjured, but Mrs. B. was badly burned. She was found nearly dead by detective Keafe, assisted by several members of an Engine Co. The officer took her to the shoe store of Geo. Scheffmercy, 126 Grand street; but the shoemaker inhumanly ordered them out. The policeman pushed him aside and put the woman on a sofa, and she was afterwards taken to the hospital.

Mr. McCairch occupied a part of the third story floor. He and his wife and two children were saved.

A Jewish family, consisting of eight persons, occupied a portion of the third floor, and only one member of the family can be found.

Mr. Armstrong, wife and child, occupied a part of the fourth floor, but nothing could be learned of them after the fire broke out.

Mr. Rebecca, with his wife and two children, occupied a part of the fourth floor, but nothing could be learned of them.

Mrs. North, a widow, occupied a room on the fifth floor, and she was not seen after the fire broke out.

Mr. Vopel and his wife occupied a part of the fifth floor. Mr. V., on the discovery of the fire, finding that he could not escape by the stairway, threw a clothes line out of the window and fastened one end to the window sill. He then let his wife partially down, when she slipped and fell on the shed, injuring herself severely. He followed, and escaped with a few slight injuries. Mrs. Vopel was taken to a hospital, but her life is despaired of.

Francis Pysleyer, with his wife and three children, occupied a part of the fifth story. He escaped by jumping out of the window. It is feared his wife and children were burned to death.

Owing to the intense excitement that prevailed, the names of the occupants of the sixth floor, about a dozen in all, could not be ascertained, and it is supposed that they were all burned to death.

Three brown stone houses in Lexington avenue were destroyed by fire last night. The occupants and losess are Julien A. Hasbrouck, loss $40,000; Rev. Dr. Hoag, loss $12,000; Moses Wolf, loss $15,000. Messrs. Hasbrouck and Wolf were insured.

Lawrence Calamity—The Verdict.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 3—P. M.

The Jury of Inquest of the Pemberton Mill calamity rendered their verdict last evening.

It is quite lengthy, embracing a careful review of the testimony. The Jury find that from all the evidence adduced before them, they do not believe that the owners of said Mill, at the time of the demolition, ever had reason to distrust its security.

The Jury further find that the fire originating after the fall of said Mill, was caused by the accidental breaking of a lantern in the hands of some person to them unknown, and at the time actually engaged in aiding and assisting in rescuing the sufferers then alive and beneath the flooring of the mill; upon all of which several findings the Jury determine and say that the direct cause of the fall of the mill was the weakness and insufficiency of the cast-iron sheething, the thinness of the brick walls, and the manner of construction.

The length of span from one support to another beneath the floor timber, were additional causes and aided in the general demolition of the building, and that so far as actual defects in the cast-iron pillars existed, responsibility rested on Albert Fuller, the former contracting agent and foreman of the Eagle Iron Foundry then at West Boston.

That upon C. L. Bigelow, the architect as well as the superintendent of this structure, rests all the responsibility, arising from an insufficient test of said pillars, and from any and every direct weakness from insecurity in or about the general construction of said building. That the walls were built under his supervision; that the timbers and flooring were in every respect constructed and located as he originally designed; the inner supports of cast iron, previous to erection, had his approval and were by him adopted as in all parts safe and secure; that such inspection as he required was given to the iron pillars, and that any want of skill in designing, any error of judgment in approving and adopting, and any want of due care and precaution in properly testing the different parts of structure on his part, appearing to that extent, rendered him responsible for the direful catastrophe involving the death of these twenty-two human beings.

Affairs at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.

Herald's Washington correspondent says: Dr. S. D. Howe will appear before the Senate's Brown raid committee to-morrow, and will testify under protest.

Mr. Hyatt will not appear until next week. He has been advised by his political admirers here, that he cannot be sustained if he attempts to resist the committee when asked to testify, and I learn he has yielded to their judgment, and will not attempt to carry the case before the Supreme Court, but if compelled to testify will do so under protest.

Gov. Hicks of Md., dispatched his Secretary of State to this city to day, to pay the congratulation of his Excellency to Gov. Pennington, upon his election to the office of Speakership. Gov. Pennington received the Secretary with the courtesy due to his position, and replied to the Governor of Maryland, thanking him for the prompt evidence he offers of his recognition of the authority of law against fanaticism.

Tribune's Washington correspondent of the same date says:—At the Republican conference yesterday, the general understanding was that Mr. Forney should be supported for clerk. There was a disposition to yield this point without much hesitation. On the basis of Mr. Pennington's vote, Mr. Forney will require two additional votes to displace Winter Davis. Mr. Briggs, who will not adopt him, and Mr. Pennington's own vote, which was not cast on the ballot for Speaker, furnishes one, and Mr. Riggs, of New Jersey, is suggested for the other.—Hoffman, of Maryland, will be sustained for Sergeant-at-arms, and with the aid of Southern opposition can easily be elected.

The House will adjourn from to-morrow till Monday, for the purpose of allowing the Speaker time to construct the committees, which cannot be announced before the middle of next week. No appointments have as yet been made, except chairmanship of Ways and Means to Mr. Sherman.

Three Children Burned to Death.

HYDE PARK, Pa., Feb. 3—3 P. M.

The dwelling of Daniel Early, Sen, was burned last night and three children perished in the flames. The mother and three other children escaped from a second story window, but all badly burned. The father was absent. The weather was intensely cold—this morning the thermometer was 16° below zero.

Horse Racing at Charleston, S. C.

CHARLESTON, Feb. 3—3 P. M.

Farmer Washington won the three mile race to-day—the time of the two heats being 5:43 and 5:44 1-2. The second race, mile heats, was won by Wacomaca.

Terrible Explosion at Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 3—3 P. M.

Ames & Molten's wool and hat factory has just blown up, and from ten to fifteen persons buried in the ruins.

The killed are: Eratman, engineer, James McCracken, Foreman, John Weaner, and one not identified. John Farrall is badly injured and not expected to recover. Half a dozen persons who were in the front part of the building were slightly injured, and a girl badly injured by falling timbers. Loss on property $22,000; insured for $20,000.

The building was an immense structure, and usually contained about 220 employees, including 100 females; very few of the operatives were on the premises, the catastrophe having happened before the hour for commencing work. The engine and machinery were entirely new and had just been put up by Messrs. Woodruff & Beck, of Hartford, and were then in charge of Mr. Easton, an engineer in their employ, who was sent on to superintend the putting up and testing of the engine. The main building, which was of brick, was 200 feet long and three stories which is almost entirely demolished. The killed are Jas. McCracken, Superintendent, and one of the owners, Jno. M. Arver, boss hatter; Eastman, the engineer from Hartford; Theodore Higby, a young man who had come to the factory to work for the first time; Patrick McNally an apprentice; two men names unknown, one supposed to be another engineer from Hartford.

The wounded are John Hill, badly hurt in the spine, John Callagher skull fractured, John Van Voorhies badly scalded, John Farrell not expected to live; Daniel Coleman not expected to live; John Mulholland dreadfully scalded, Smith leg broken and badly scalded, John Orr, badly burned, two sisters named Falley were frightfully cut and bruised, one having her jaw broken: John Galtar badly scalded well probably die; Arthur Borren compound fracture of the skull, will probably die; John Warrington badly hurt, has had one leg amputated, and will probably die; Ann E. Garrity badly hurt and not expected to live John Garrity and John Mulholland, mentioned above, has since died in a hospital. There were about 28 employees in the building at the time of the explosion.

The explosion was supposed to have been caused by the freezing of water in the pumps. The boiler was torn into fragments, one piece passed through three twelve inch walls; another passed the yard, striking the building used as drying room and passed through both walls. Four girls were found, after the explosion, clinging to the rafters of the building. They were rescued with but trifling injuries.

It is feared there are others still in the ruins.

LATER.—Additional wounded: G. H. Buwen, badly will probably die; Wm. Croak, scalded; Jas. Worthington, badly hurt; Harriet Costigin, intured in spine. The accident occurred about 7:45, when the greater part of the operators were on their way to the factory to commence their day's work. Loss on building, $1,200, machinery, $1,000, stock, $15,000.

Railroad Accident.

DAYTON, O., Feb. 3—8 P. M.

An accident occurred to the Dayton and Michigan passenger train coming south this morning, three miles this side of Tippecanoe, in consequence of the breaking of one of the rails. Two passenger cars were precipitated into the canal. The passengers all escaped serious injury, but not without a cold bath. The engine and baggage car remained on the track and brought the passengers to Dayton this morning.

Murderer Convicted.

LYONS, N. Y., Feb. 3—3 P. M.

The trial of Fee for the murder of F. Male, near Clyde, last September, concluded last evening. Judge Knox delivered a lucid charge, giving the prisoner the benefit of every rule in favor of life. The jury retired at 6 and at 9 rendered a verdict of guilty.—He is to be hung on the 23d of March.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 3—3 P. M.

The Republican friends of Gov. Chase fired one hundred guns on the wharf last evening, in honor of his election to the Senate of the United States.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—9 P. M.

SENATE—Not in session to-day.

HOUSE—Mr. Fenton called up his resolution offered on Wednesday, that a message be sent to the Senate, informing that body that a quorum had assembled and chosen Mr. Pennington Speaker, and that the House is now ready to proceed to business.

Mr. Niblack wanted to know if the resolution was adopted, who was to carry it to the Senate.

The Speaker replied the acting Clerk would.

Mr. Smith raised a question, that by the law of 1789 and the precedent in the 31st Congress, nobody can notify the Senate until a Clerk is elected and sworn in, and until then no resolution is in order. He moved to proceed to the election of a Clerk.

Mr. Barksdale asked, if there should be a protracted contest for Clerk, who would record the proceedings.

Mr. Smith replied, in such a case, they could appoint a Clerk pro tem.

The Speaker decided the practice has been in accordance with Mr. Fenton's resolution, and said there was no necessity to have any delay till the election of a Clerk.

Mr. John Cochrane said the sending of a message to the Senate, was no more business than the running up of a flag every day, to indicate that the House was in session.

Mr. Fenton's resolution was then adopted.

Mr. Grow offered a resolution, that a committee be appointed to act in conjunction with such a committee as may be appointed by the Senate, to await on the President to inform him that the House has assembled, and is ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

Mr. Grow also gave notice of his intention to introduce a Homestead Bill.

Mr. Washburne, of Ill., gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill amendatory of the steamboat law; and also a River and Harbor Bill.

Mr. Sherman moved to proceed to the election of a Clerk, previous to which there was a call of the House.

Mr. Schartzee nominated Mr. Forney; Mr. Smith, of Va., nominated J. C. Allen, the late Clerk; Mr. Nelson, nominated Samuel Kyler, of Tenn.; Mr. Cobb nominated David E. L. Dawson, of Ala. The Speaker appointed Messrs. Elliot, Whitely, Smith, of Va., and Maynard, Tellers.

The ballot resulted: Whole number 221; necesary to a choice 111; Forney 112; Allen 77; Taylor 23; Dawson 3; McKean 2.

On motion of Mr. Sherman the house proceeded to the election of Sergeant-at-Arms.

Mr. Bocock nominated the present incumbent, Mr. Grosvener, saying he was one of the best officers who had ever filled that place and against whom not one word of complaint had been made in any quarter.

Mr. Harris, of Md., nominated Mr. H. A. Hoffmann, of Md.

Mr. Garnet nominated Jas. C. Allen, who he said had been a steady and consistent Democrat and had never voted for the exclusion of naturalized foreigners from the privileges to which they are entitled under the constitution and laws. He believed Mr. Hoffman was elected to a former Congress by Know Nothings and supported all the proscriptive principles and policy of the Know Nothing party. (Cries of order from the Rep. side.)

Mr. Houston inquired whether Mr. Hoffman was not nominated or recommended as a rumor said, by the Black Republican caucus yesterday.

Mr. Garnett thanked God that he was not a member of that caucus; but he understood the fact to be as Mr. H. had stated. He withdrew the nomination of Mr. Allen.

Messrs. Bocock, Harris, of Md., Colfax, and Garnett, were appointed tellers.

Before the vote was announced, Mr. Forney was introduced:

Mr. Hoffman was elected Sergeant-at-Arms. He received 114 votes, Mr. Grosvener 93, Mr. Underwood 7.

On motion of Mr. Winslow the Speaker was authorized to appoint the Standing Committees.

Mr. Spencer offerred a resolution that Mr. Allen, the late Clerk be allowed $8 per day from the 4th of Dec. 1859, to the 3d of Feb. 1860, for extra services in addition to his salary.

Mr. Burnett knew he was doing an ungracious act; but he felt bound to oppose the resolution, as he did a similar one some years ago for the benefit of the gentleman just elected.

The Clerk—The law fixes the compensation at $3,600 and that was enough.

Mr. Spencer referred to the fact that when a similar resolution was passed for the benefit of Mr. Forney, it was almost unanimously adopted.

The yaes and nays were taken on the adoption of the resolution; which was rejected.

An unsuccessful motion was made to reconsider the vote.

Mr. Davis, of Ind., asked but failed to receive consent to offer a resolution proposing to replace the former seats and desks in the hall.

Mr. Hoarde gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill for the purpose of raising a revenue to meet the current expenses of the Government for preventing frauds on the revenue, and for protecting iron, coal and other articles.

Several gents on the Democratic side objected to the notice.

Mr. Sherman moved that when the House adjourn it be to Monday.

Mr. Crawford wished to know when this was deserved by the Speaker, in order that the latter in the meaneime appoint the standing committees.

Mr. Sherman replied that the cause would not be announced earlier than Wednesday, but his friend wanted some time to arrange for the election of the remaining officers of the House.

Mr. Hughes wanted the P. O. deficiency bill passed now, if it was not the country, wanted to see on whom the responsibility rested.

Mr. Leach said the reason assighned by Mr. Sherman was not sufficient to induce the Democrats to assent to an to an adjournment till Monday.

Mr. Sherman replied that by meeting them they could do nothing, as a single abjecture would prevent the P. O. bill from being acted on, as the rules require that it shall first be referred to a committee of ways and means.

Mr. Leach—do you want a caucus to morrow.

Mr. Sherman—you may have one.

Mr. Houston—let us stay here and finish the election of officers.

The question on adjournment till Monday was decided in the affirmative by sixteen majority.

Mr. Phelps asked and obtained leave to make an appropriation to the Post Office Department for the last fiscal and part of this year. He moved it be referred to the Committee on the Whole on the State of the Union.

Pending which the House adjourned.

Several appropriation bills were passed.

The Senate then went into an election of President pro tem, when Hon. M. M. Davis was chosen. The Democrats voted for Senator Maxon.

Adjoured to 4 o'clock this P. M.

SENATE, met at 4 o'clock, P. M.

Bills passed—Authorizing the Trademen's Bank and the Bank of Oconto to reduce their capital stock. to authorize J. B. Miller to keep a ferry in the town of Dekorah; The Senate then went into Committee of the Whole, when a discussion arose on the bill for remitting the fines on delinquent school land owners.

The Senate then adjourned until Tuesday at 4 P. M.

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—9 P. M.

Mr. Forney's election as Clerk of the House was effected by the vote of all present who had voted for Speaker Pennington, together with Horace F. Clark and Riggs, and with the exception of Mr. Davis, of Ind.

Mr. Hoffman also received the vote of the Republicans and about half the American vote, and was thus elected Sergeant-at-Arms.

Seven Americans, viz: Messrs. Maynard, Moore, of Ky., Quarles, Stopes, Hatman and Smith, of N. C., voted for Underwood.

Mr. Grossbenner, in addition to the Democratic votes received those of Messrs. Boligny, Bristol, Hardman, Hill, Leach, of N. C. and Vance, who belong to the Southern Opposition.

The bill introduced in the House by Mr. Phillips appropriates $4,296,000 for the deficiency of the year ending June last and part of the present fiscal year; $2,400,000 under the law of 1836, in payment of the salaries of the officers and clerks, and for the transportation of the mails.

The third section provides that on and after the expiration of the quarter in which the mail service was rendered, and sufficient to pay it, and appropriate $1000 for the temporary Clerk. Here to expedite the payment no doubt is entertained that the bill will pass next week.

The Republicans will again meet in conference to-morrow on the subject of election of a door keeper and postmaster. The number of applications for subordinate places is unusually large.

A Swindler.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3—9 P. M.

Capt. Moses was arrested at the exchange to-day for attempting to swindle our citizens. Moses had published an announcement that he was the commander of a charity ship bound to Gibralter with food and raiment for the afflicted Moorish refugees. He presented to the Sons of Malta here what was supposed to be a forged letter of introduction from the Grand Commander of the Sons of Malta of New York. He was held to bail to await a further hearing. The prisoner protested his innocence, alleging that a certain party in New York would testify to his honesty of purpose.

Morrissy and his Associates Arrested.

BUFFALO, Feb. 3—9 P. M.

John Morrissey, the notorious pugilist, was arraigned yesterday in the Superior Court, upon an indictment for setting on foot a prize fight, and for leaving the State to witness a prize fight. He plead guilty to the last charge in the indictment and was to-day fined three hundred dollars.

O'Donnel, the referee, and Briggs, one of the seconds in the fight between Price and Kelly, in Canada, were fined $200 each, for their participation in the fight. The fines were promptly paid.

Annual Statement of Lake Commerce.

OSWEGO, Feb. 3—9 P. M.

The Commercial Times annual statement of the commerce of the lakes, now being prepared, shows that by converting flour into wheat, the total amount of grain shipped from the lake regions eastward over Lake Ontario, in 1859, was 14,800,000 bushels against 21,800,000 bushels in 1858.

Murderer Executed.

BALTIMORE, Md. Feb. 3—9 P. M.

James Stevens was hung this morning, for the murder of his wife by poison. The execution took place in the prison yard, about 200 persons being present. He met his fate firmly, and was attended to the scaffold by three clergymen. He died protesting his innocence.

SATURDAY MORNING, FEB. 4, 1860.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

A Republican State Convention will be held at the Capitol, in Madison, on Wednesday, the 29th day of February, 1860, at 12 o'clock M., to choose four delegates from the State at large, and two from each Congressional District, to represent the State of Wisconsin in the Republican National Convention to be held at Chicago on the 13th of next June, to nominate two candidates for presidential electors for the State at large; to adopt such action as may be deemed advisable in view of the approaching election of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State; and for the transaction of such other business as may be thought calculated to advance the interests of the party and promote the success of its principles.

Each Assembly District of the State will be entitled to two delegates in such Convention, except where a district includes more than one County, when each county will be entitled to two delegates.

The committee would respectfully suggest that Assembly District Conventions to elect delegates to the State Convention be held as early as Saturday, the 18th day of February.

Elected at Last.

The House of Representatives has at last elected a Speaker, but it has not elected Mr. Sherman. Mr. Pennington, an old line Whig of New Jersey, is the choice of the House. Those of the Republicans who insisted they would stick to Sherman "till the crack of doom," felt constrained to give him up, and though they felt too much ashamed of themselves after all their boasts of firmness, etc., to make another nomination, they still "whistled Mr. Sherman down the wind" and gave up their great point to force this weak man on an unwilling house.

Had the Republicans withdrawn Mr. Sherman long ago, an organization would have been at once effected. But this they would not do, so long as they had a hope of insulting the men of the North. They were told time and time again that their obstinacy prevented an organization, but they insisted that it was the fault of the Democrats alone.—News of yesterday.

And so it was. An organization could have been effected during the first week of the session, but for the "obstinacy" of the Democrats, and it has at length been accomplished in spite of them. The Republicans have been ready, at any moment, to withdraw Mr Sherman and substitute another candidate, whenever it became apparent that an election was possible. Mr. Sherman himself has repeatedly stated that whenever more votes could be concentrated on any other candidate, he would retire from the field. He did so on Friday last, in a manly, eloquent and patriotic speech, that commanded the respect of even his bitterest opponents.

Mr. Sherman, like Mr. Pennington, was "an old line Whig," and Mr. Pennington, like Mr Sherman, is a staunch Republican. They occupy precisely the same platform, and Mr. Pennington voted for Mr. Sherman from first to last. The "weak man," as the News very sillily terms Mr. Sherman, will be the leader of the House, and by his gallant bearing throughout the protracted contest for the Speakership, has fully justified the confidence of his friends and fairly conquered the prejudices of his opponents. No man stands higher to-day, in the estimation of men of all parties, at Washington, than John Sherman, of Ohio.

Telegraph Reports.

It is to be regretted that so much party coloring is given to our telegraphic reports. The members of the press, of all parties, receive and pay for these reports, for the information of their readers, and it is but fair to presume, if they need any coloring, the party press can apply their own pallet and pencil brush. The telegraphs are generally in the hands of our opponents, who seem to let no occasion pass, so to arrange their reports for the Associated Press, that any little advantage may be thrown in favor of their party—especially just before an important election. The reports lately, of the debates in Congress, have been very much colored in favor of the Republican side, to the great disgust of the Democrats who receive them.—Mad. Patriot, (Dem.)

We do not wonder that the Democrats are "greatly disgusted" with the telegraphic reports of the late proceedings in Congress.—The doings of their Representatives there, especially their shameful surrender to the Know-Nothings, annoys the Sham-Democracy beyond expression. It effectually spikes their most serviceable artillery. Heretofore, the periodical clamor against the Republicans, for supposed sympathy with the Know-Nothings, has been the most effective weapon in the hands of the Democratic leaders. By its persistent and unscrupulous use, they have, time and again, induced the great mass of our Adopted Citizens to vote for the "regular Democratic ticket," as the only way to escape disfranchisement and persecution.—But the solid vote of the Democratic representatives for the Know-Nothing candidate for Speaker has "turned the tables." It is now manifest that the Democrats, and not the Republicans, sympathize and co-operate with the Know-Nothings.

It is scarcely fair, however, in the Patriot, to hold the telegraph responsible for these things. We are not aware that this underworking instrument is, in any sense, a political machine; now, can we trace, in the reports from Washington, any such partisan "coloring" as the Patriot complains of. The simple truth is, that the Democrats are utterly ashamed of the sayings and doings of their members in Congress, during the past few weeks, and, for want of a better excuse, very absurdly charge the blame upon the telegraph.

Progress of Democratic Opinions.—The Sham-Democratic party are slowly, but surely going over to the extreme Pro-Slavery doctrine of the Southern wing of the party. The recent convention of the Democrats of Rockingham county, New Hampshire, adopted the following, among the resolutions:

Resolved, That we agree in the final settlement by the Supreme Judicial tribunal of the nation of the question of Slavery in the Territories, establishing the right of every citizen to take his property of any kind into the Territories, and have it protected there under the Federal Constitution.

When Charles O'Connor, at the Union Meeting in the New York Academy of Music, stood up and defended Slavery as a just and benificent institution, he spoke the prevailing sentiments of the falsely styled Democratic Party.

One of the Rich Men of Great Britain.—When the present Marquis of Bute attains his majority, says an English paper, he will be one of the most opulent noblemen of the British peerage, and equal to the Westminsters, Buccleuchs, and Breadalbanes.—The following is a brief enumeration of the estates in Britain possessed by the noble lord, and the titles under which he holds them: In England, estates in the counties of Essex and Cambridge, derived through the North family; a large estate in Bedfordshire, derived through the third Earl of Bute, a large portion of which still remains; a large estate in Durham, derived through the Claverings, an heiress of which family married the last Viscount Windsor. The collieries on this estate yield a large yearly revenue. In Wales, his vast Glamorganshire estates, derived thro' the Herberts, Earls of Pembroke, and their representatives, the Windsors, Viscounts Windsor. In Scotland, nearly the whole Isle of Bute (tripled in its annual return since the last thirty years), derived through a branch of the world renowned house of Stuart, hereditary sheriffs, afterwards Earls of Bute; large estates in the counties of Ayr and Wigtown, derived through the Crichton's, Earls of Dumfries, and Barons Crichton, and their families, which they by marriage represented; also some estates in Cumbrae.

Trustees of Blind Asylum.—The Governor has re-appointed as Trustees of the Blind Asylum for three years, ending Feb. 1, 1863, James Diefendorff, of Milwaukee, and D. W. Inman, of Janesville, whose terms expired Feb. 1, 1860.

Railroads in the United States.—The total number of miles in operation on the 1st of January, 1859, was 27,857. The number of miles opened during last year was 1,541, making the total number of miles in operation on the 1st inst. 29,398. The railroads in progress embrace 17,580 miles. The total amount of capital invested in all the roads is stated at $1,118,920,929. The increase during the last year was $157,872,565.—Boston Com. Bulletin.

The Next Chief Justice.

For the Sentinel.

The public mind is canvassing the field for a suitable man for our Chief Justiceship. I wish to second the suggestion already made by several of the country press, of the name of Hon. Albert Smith, of Milwaukee.

The Wood Co. Reporter, in a spirited article on this subject, in which it takes the ground that the Republicans will support no man not sound on State Rights, concludes as follows:

"Hon. A. D. Smith seems to be the more prominent candidate for a nomination, while he has proved a reliable and profound jurist, one of whom any State might well be proud. If he is deemed not thoroughly available we would suggest the name of Hon. Albert Smith, the present County Judge of Milwaukee County. This gentleman is one of the best jurists in the country, and combines a clear head with an unsullied reputation."

To this sentiment, all who know the gentleman will cordially subscribe. Hon. Albert Smith is an old resident of our city. He came here from a field of professional service in New York State, where he had long stood among his brethren at the Bar, like Saul among the children of Israel—from a district which had twice commissioned him to represent it in the Halls of Congress. He came here when Democracy was rampant, when Whigs were scarce in the West, and Republicanism had not yet been discovered. He identified himself with the Opposition, and was, I believe, chairman at the organization of the first Republican State Convention of Wisconsin.

Judge Smith was never, however, a warm partisan, but his action has always been characterized by that calm firmness which is the result of convictions rather than prejudice or party zeal.

That Hon. Albert Smith is in every way capable to fill, and would be a lasting adornment to the chair of the Chief Justiceship, no one who knows him as a lawyer, methinks, will deny; while for integrity, and those lofty attributes which alone can shield a Judge from the contagion of prejudices and partiality, it would be hard to find many who stand, in the opinions of this community, his peer.

He has hosts of friends, not only in this city but throughout the State. Let his name be brought before the convention, and if nominated, Milwaukee county will roll him up a vote worthy of one who occupies among us so enviable a position both as an able jurist and an honest man. SIGNA.

The Contest for the Speakership.

The Cincinnati Gazette, in the course of an able article on the memorable struggle in the House of Representatives, thus graphically portrays the attitude of the Sham-Democracy:

And now what was the attitude of the Democracy? What is the practical issue presented in the new state of things inaugurated on Friday last? We ask the people closely to consider the answers to these questions.

Candidate after candidate, has the adventurous Democracy taken up and discarded. Early in the day, it abandoned all hope, except in an alliance with Southern Know-Nothings, on a purely sectional basis. The history of these intrigues—the struggle of the Democracy to elect Bocock, and then for Boteler, a member of the American order, in full communion; for Millson, who voted against the Douglas Nebraska-Kansas act; for McClernand, a straight-out Douglas anti-Lecompton man; for Lecompton Scott, of California; for Hamilton, of Texas, an acknowledged candidate of the Slave-Code Disunion policy, and a disguised Know-Nothing, lately in full fellowship with the order—is too familiar to our readers to need repetition. Let all this pass.

Where did the knight-errant Democracy at last land? Where, since Friday, have we found that beautifully consistent and harmonious party? Voting with the entire body of the Southern Americans for William N. H. Smith—a man elected by American votes, as an avowed opponent of the Democratic party; a man who was chosen over a regular Democratic candidate; and after a thorough and excited contest in his district, only last August. The entire Democratic party in the House, with only three exceptions, on Friday laid down its arms before this fierce opponent of Democracy! A most beautiful spectacle, is it not? And what is the excuse for this surrender—this submission, so humiliating as to excite compassion? Let every honest freeman of the North note the common bond of this coalition. It is a sectional alliance, solely. The common bond is hatred of the North.

Let the freemen of the Free States consider this undeniable fact. The Democracy had an opportunity to elect Mr. Gilmer, also of North Carolina, and himself a large slaveholder.—But Mr. Gilmer is an Anti-Lecompton man. He does not favor the enactment of a slave-code for the Territories. They repudiate him. Mr. Smith believes Congress ought to protect Slavery, by positive enactments, in all the Territories—when directly charged with holding such sentiments, he makes no denial—and the Southern Democracy go for him in a body. The Northern Democrats, with only the exception of Allen Davis of Indiana, and Holman, are whipped into his support. And the Enquirer—is it strange, or is it not?—censures even these men for not obsequiously surrendering to a sectional Southern Whig! Vallandingham, Cox, Howard, Martin, Pendleton, of this State, with reluctance, misgivings, bewilderments, real or affected, some of them with all the outward manifestations of mental agony, gradually submitted, bowed their head to the axe, on that fatal hangman's day of Northern Democracy—Friday, the 27th day of January, 1860. What are they but the slaughtered slaves, cast, with a cruelty worthy of oriental barbarism, upon the funeral pyre of defunct Democracy?

And now let us see the issue left, from that hour forward in regard to the Speakership. The choice was immediately narrowed down to Mr. Smith, a Southern Oppositionist, of whom the best that can be claimed for him by the Democracy is, that he is a Conservative Whig, anti-Democratic in all his antecedents and in his present professions, in all things except in demanding Congressional protection for Slavery in the Territories—on the one hand; and to Mr. Pennington, a Northern Oppositionist, also a Conservative Whig in his antecedents, Anti-Democratic in his present professions, and holding to the Republican faith that neither the Constitution, nor Judge Taney's construction of it, irrevocably establishes Slavery in the Territories, and that slavery is entitled to no protection there unless such as the people themselves choose to grant.

Here is a plain issue. We have fairly and fully stated it. The Democracy have taken their position on it—a position which we pledge ourselves they shall not fail to hear of, an issue they shall be compelled to meet, in the coming Presidential canvass.

Free men of Ohio! Douglas men, Democrats of all sorts, what say you to the fact that, in choosing between a Northern Whig and a southern one—the one, if you will have it so (a charge we most certainly deny) extreme on the side of Free Labor in the territories, and the other most undeniably extreme in favoring slavery in the Territories—and the two differing on no other subject, but alike determined opponents of the Democracy—the Democratic representatives of the North and West selected the Southern sectionalist!—That was the grand difference. That determined their choice. This is the cardinal feature of the great contest for the Speakership, in its new phase, as first presented on Friday last. What has Northern Democracy gained by this deliberate political suicide of its Representatives?

Not only humiliated, but defeated in the miserable object that humiliation was intended to secure, Northern Democracy can be henceforward little more than a demoralized, disintegrated and powerless remnant.

"Reputation, Iago, Reputation."—The Washington Star, one of the most zealous defenders of the National Administration, forsees damage to the reputation of the Democratic party, growing out of the contract for the Senate printing. That paper says:—

"Messrs. Wendell & Bowman.—Since the election of the latter to be the Senate Printer, public curiosity here has been on tip-toe to learn what would be the eventual settlement of the questions in issue between that gentleman and Mr. Wendell, relative to the contract by which Mr. W. transferred the Union newspaper to Mr. B. To satisfy that curiosity we have to say, that it is now understood that Mr. Bowman has concluded a contract with Mr. John C. Rives, by which he obtains the use of the latter's office in which to execute the work, and that Mr. Wendell, regarding that act as a breach of the Union sale contract, has sued out an attachment against the Constitution newspaper office, claiming from Gen. Bowman thirty thousand dollars, the price he was offered for it by the friends of Senator Douglas previous to the transfer, and other damages. As the matter seems to stand, we presume that nothing short of a formal suit will end the muss; and that, terminate as it may, the trial will evolve a large amount of political scandal injurious in every respect to the reputation of the Democratic party, even though involving no one but actual parties to the suit."

THE STRUGGLE FOR THE SPEAKERSHIP.

Ninety of the Proud and Haughty Democrats and Disunionists down upon their Marrow-Bones to the Twenty-Three South Americans or Know-Knothings.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.

Washington, Jan. 28, 1860.

The events in the House, yesterday, on the vote for Speaker, were fraught with instruction and surrounded with the most intense excitement, uproar and confusion.

The great scene can never be forgotten by the immense concourse of anxious lookers-on who had the good fortune to witness it.

Just at a time when the once powerful Know Nothing party was on its last legs, and about to draw its last breath and give up the ghost, with but twenty-three representatives on the floor of the House, the dictatorial, arrogant, braggart, disunion, fire-eating Democracy, famous and furious in its terrible denunciations of the Know-Nothing party and its principles, everywhere, in all sections of the Union, went down upon its marrow-bones, in the persons of ninety of its representatives, and supplicated the American or Know-Nothing party, with all its dark-lantern reflections, to suffer the once boastful Democracy to yield up its own candidates and unite with the Know-Nothings in voting for and helping them to elect, if possible, one of their own party—of the faction of twenty three—to the Speakership! Oh, it was a telling sight. What a falling off was there, my countrymen, when the ninety unwavering, unswerving Know-Nothing-haters, disunionists, fire-eaters, Northern doughfaces, including John Cochrane, Vallandingham, Cox, English and Larrabee, all fell down upon their knees to the Know-Nothing party, and begged the privilege of voting for one of their men, and doing their best to elect him Speaker!

Explosion of a War Steamer in Malaga.

Correspondence of the Charleston News.

Extract from a letter dated at Malaga, Dec. 25:—A dreadful catastrophe has occurred here. I suppose I shall never again witness such a sight. I was on the way to my hotel at 9 o'clock, and while stopping a moment to observe the numerous steamers in port, a detonation, surpassing that of either thunder or cannon, startled me, and a cloud of smoke arose from among the steamers that were riding at anchor awaiting the embarkation of the 3rd corps d'armee. As soon as the smoke had dispersed, a raging fire was seen streaming from the deck of the magnificent steamer Genoa, belonging to Victor Emanuel, and chartered to the Spanish government for the service of war. The air was filled with shouts and cries from those on board.

The steamer had just arrived and had not entirely moored, her main anchor being only out. In the space of a minute hundreds of row boats were along side to receive the passengers, and take in those who had jumped overboard. Shortly they arrived on shore, but many awfully injured—so seriously that a few days after they died in the hospital.—Some landed without shirts, others without pants, having been obliged to tear them off on account of the fire; many of the poor creatures had no hair left on their heads. In the space of five or ten minutes not a single person remained on board the burning vessel, and an order was given to the thousands of spectators present, as well as the inhabitants of the adjacent houses, to escape, for there was imminent danger.

The detonation was caused by the explosion of grenadoes placed in the stern, where there were yet remaining many more, and after them were hundreds of loaded bombs and over twelve tons of gunpowder. Two Spanish steamers were ordered to attach lines and tow her out if possible, or at least free her from amongst the others, over thirty in number, besides many more sailing vessels. After much trouble, the two steamers commenced towing her, but could only get her out to the distance of about fifty yards or the length of the main anchor's chain. During all the time dreadful explosions of other grenadoes were taking place. The two steamers propelling found all their efforts useless to drag the anchor, and were obliged to abandon her in the very middle of the harbor.

The fire was raging intensely and fast making its way to the bombs and twelve tons of gunpowder. After some loss of time, a Spanish man-of-war was placed at a short distance from the wreck and commenced a heavy discharge of cannon ball to sink her, but nearly an hour passed before the steamer appeared to feel any effect, and as the danger was increasing from minute to minute four cannons were posted on one end of the Mole, and another man-of-war assisted, when, finally the wreck gradually settled down. The mainmast had already been consumed, so that the fire had but a short distance to reach the after magazine.

In half an hour more the great danger had nearly passed, for amid the tremendous explosions of grenadoes, that had not ceased from the commencement, another sound was heard—that occasioned by the struggle between the two elements; but the fire was soon after subdued, and the waters covered her decks. All was over; she had gone down, showing only the end of her bowsprit and foremast. Besides much material of war, there were 200 mules belonging to the government. There is a complete loss of everything, not even any of the baggage saved.—Searches have been made by a diving machine, and not a vestige of anything was found.

I have seen numbers of the wounded—there are over two hundred in the hospitals of Malaga.

Born a Gentleman.

The Washington Constitution gives the public a word about the editors of that sheet, in which the following paragraph occurs:

"The junior editor was born in Ireland.—He was born a gentleman. This may be his misfortune, but it is certainly not his fault; and if it operates prejudicially to his interests or advancement as an American citizen (which he became upwards of two years ago) he has yet to learn it."

We respectfully inquire as to the meaning of the phrase we have italicised. What peculiarity was there about the birth of Wm. M. Browne, junior editor of the Constitution, to entitle him to distinction as a "gentleman?" How does he happen to know he was "born a gentleman?" Isn't it probable that he was born a baby? Is he sure there is any blood in him better than that of others in whose families titles had never been held? Wouldn't it have been possible for him, by any form of education, under any stress of circumstances, to have become a blackguard? When the principal editor of the great national organ of the Democratic party—such as Mr. Browne's position—gives the country to understand that he was "born a gentleman," it is time for the Democracy to begin to inquire what the phrase means.—Cin. Com.

Ancient Fashions.—The New England Historical Register for 1852 contains the following interesting account of the clothing in the Old Times:

Stockings were anciently made of cloth or milled stuffs, sewed together. Henry II of France was the first who appeared with silk stockings. That was in 1559, and in 1561 Queen Elizabeth was presented by her milliner with a pair. The first pair of worsted stockings knit in England was made in 1564.

Red colored stockings, whether yarn, worsted or silk, were much worn in New England for nearly half a century after the arrival of our fathers.

In 1629, when provisions were made for emigrants to Massachusetts, the stockings furnished were accompanied with ten dozen pairs of Norwich garters. At an early period of our country, silk garters were worn by the more fashionable, and pulled into a large bow knot at the knee, but as the custom fell under the notice of the civil authorities, it was forthwith prohibited.

Gloves have been long in use, and it was once a proverb that, to be well made, three kingdoms must be concerned in the making.

Skating in the New York Central Park.—The N. Y. Express of Monday last, says:

With the advent of a new moon the skaters have been decidedly favored with frosty nights, which has been taken advantage of by thousands of both sexes, numerous parties of the fair sex having made amazing progress in the graceful art, and on Saturday no less than two thousand of the fair ones crowded the ladies ponds, and to such an extent that many of the best skaters—and there were quite a number—were obliged to seek room for their graceful evolutions on the large pond, to the great admiration of the rougher members of society, who might have numbered from four to five thousand. Of the latter not many fancy skaters made their appearance.

Heat from the Stars.—Dr. Lardner says:

"It is a startling fact that if the earth were dependent alone upon the sun for heat it would not get enough to keep existence in animal or vegetable life upon its surface. It results from the researches of Pouillet that the stars furnish heat enough in the course of the year to melt a crust of ice seventy-five feet thick—almost as much as is supplied by the sun. This may appear strange when we consider how immeasurably small must be the amount of heat received from any one of these distant bodies. But the surprise vanishes when we remember that the whole firmament is so thickly sown with stars that in some places thousands are crowded together within a space no greater than that occupied by the full moon."

The muscles of the human jaw produce a power equal to four hundred and thirty-four pounds. This is only what science tells us; but we know the jaw of some of our lawyers is equal to a good many thousand pounds a year to them.

Jewish Address to President Washington, and his Reply.

We copy from the Jewish Messenger of York, the annexed patriotic address of the Jews of Newport to President Washington, on his visit to that city in 1790, with the beautiful reply of the Pater Patrie:

From the original, in the possession of Mr. Joshua Phillips, of New York.

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

Sir: Permit the children of the stock of Abraham to approach you with the most cordial affection and esteem for your person and merit, and to join with our fellow-citizens in welcoming you to Newport.

With pleasure we reflect on those days—those days of difficulty and danger—when the God of Israel, who delivered David from the peril of the sword, shielded your heart in the day of battle; and we rejoice to think that the same Spirit who rested in the bosom of the greatly beloved Daniel, enabling him to preside over the provinces of the Babylonish empire, rests and ever will rest upon you, enabling you to discharge the arduous duties of Chief Magistrate of these States.

Deprived, as we heretofore have been, of the invaluable rights of free citizens, we now (with a deep sense of gratitude to the Almighty Disposer of all events) behold a government erected by the Majesty of the people—a government which to bigotry gives no sanction, to persecution no assistance, but generally affording to all liberty of conscience and immunities of citizenship, deeming every one, of whatever nation, tongue or language, equal parts of the great governmental machine. This so ample and extensive Federal Union, whose base is philanthropy, mutual confidence and public virtue, we cannot but acknowledge to be the work of the great God, who ruleth in the armies of heaven and among the inhabitants of the earth, doing whatever seemeth to him good.

For all the blessings of civil and religious liberty, which we enjoy under an equal and benign administration, we desire to send up our thanks to the Ancient of Days, the great Preserver of men, beseeching him that the angel who conducted our forefathers through the wilderness into the promised land may graciously conduct you through all the dangers of this mortal life; and when, like Joshua, full of days, and full of honors, you are gathered to your fathers, may you be admitted into the Heavenly Paradise, to partake of the waters of life and the tree of immortality.

Done and signed by order of the Hebrew congregation in Newport, R. I.

Washington's Reply.

TO THE HEBREW CONGREGATION IN NEWPORT, R. I.

Gentlemen: While I receive with much satisfaction your address, replete with expressions of affection and esteem, I rejoice in the opportunity of assuring you that I shall always retain a grateful remembrance of the cordial welcome I experienced in my visit to Newport from all classes of citizens.

The reflection on the days of difficulty and danger which are past is rendered the more sweet from a consciousness that they are succeeded by days of uncommon prosperity and security. If we have wisdom to make the best use of the advantages with which we are now favored, we cannot fail, under the just administration of a good government, to become a great and a happy people.

The citizens of the United States of America have a right to applaud themselves for having given to mankind examples of an enlarged and liberal policy—a policy worthy of imitation. All possess alike liberty of conscience and immunities of citizenship.

It is now no more that toleration is spoken of as if it was by the indulgence of one class of people that another enjoyed the exercise of their inherent natural rights; for, happily, the Government of the United States, which gives to bigotry no sanction, to persecution no assistance, requires only that they who live under its protection should demean themselves as good citizens in giving it on all occasions their effectual support.

It would be inconsistent with the frankness of my character not to avow that I am pleased with your favorable opinion of my administration and fervent wishes for my felicity. May the children of the stock of Abraham who dwell in this land continue to merit and enjoy the good will of the other inhabitants, while every one shall sit in safety under his own vine and fig tree, and there shall be none to make him afraid.

May the Father of all mercies scatter light and not darkness in our paths, and make us all, in our several vocations, useful here, and, in his own due time and way, everlastingly happy!

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

Clock Making.—Clock making was commenced about 1816, by Elias Terry, of Plymouth, who made wooden clocks, whittling out the wheels with a knife. The running was regulated by a heavy bag of sand, and was wound up by a ball at the other end of the cord. Terry used to make two clocks, swing them across his horse, and ride off in search of a market. Very soon he introduced the use of "brass movements," using old kettles, because brass was scarce. When he undertook to make two hundred clocks, people laughed at him, they thinking it would be impossible to sell them. In 1823 Hon. Chauncey Jerome commenced the business, and with progressive improvements, the business now stands more perfected than any other in the country. In 1829 a wooden clock cost $11—now a much better one can be bought for $1,50. The business previously transacted by C. Jerome & Co. is now done by the New Haven Clock Company. In 1857 the company commenced to make casings. Then it was thought wonderful that it turned out 75,000 clocks. In the year just ended, the company turned out 150,000 complete clocks 176,000 finished movements.

General Church Statistics.—The Church Almanac for 1860 gives the statistics of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States as follows:

The whole number of dioceses is 33; the present number of bishops, provisional bishops and assistant bishops is 43; priests and deacons, 2,030; parishes, 2,110. There were ordained during the year 1859 78 deacons and 93 priests. Number of candidates for holy orders, 281; churches consecrated, 69. The baptisms were as follows: infants 24,415; adults, 5,121; not stated, 487; total 30,023. Number of confirmations, 14,596; communicants added, 14,749; present number, 35,767; number of marriages, 7,059; burials, 12,442; Sunday School teachers, 14,091; scholars, 118,089. Amount of contributions for missionary and charitable purposes, $1,627,183 12.

The Congregational Quarterly Review, the organ of that denomination, gives the following statistics of Congregationalism for the year 1859: Churches, 2,676; members, 257,643; new members, 35,217, of whom 20,590 were by profession; deaths, 3,539; Sabbath School scholars, 206,141; ministers, 2,908, of whom 1,527 are connected with churches as pastors or stated supplies, and of the remainder many are preaching from Sabbath to Sabbath.

Mr. Punch tells the world "what a printer must be: How nice this is being a printer! A public servant, and withal a servant of the devil. A good natured fellow—must always smile—bow to everybody—must be killing polite on all occasions, especially to the ladies—must always be a dear duck of a man, always witty, always dignified; must never do anything that would not accord with the strictest propriety of the most precise old maid, and must always be correct in everything he does; he is always expected to know the latest news, is styled 'muggins', if he is not always posted; must please everybody, and is supposed never to need the one thing needful; must work for nothing and board himself; must trust everybody, and is thought a great bore if he presents his bill; must be a ladder for all political aspirants to step into office, who very soon become independent, don't owe him anything, consider the printer at best a sorry dog, who cannot expect any better treatment than kicks and cuffs; and finally summing it up he is expected to be a man without a model and without a shadow."

It is said that a lady on putting on her corsets is like a man who drinks to drown his grief, because in so-lacing herself she is getting tight.

CERTIFICATE OF AUTHORITY.

State of Wisconsin, Secretary's Office.

The Secretary of State of the State of Wisconsin hereby certifies that the foregoing statement has been compared with the original instrument on file in this office, and the same is a true and correct copy thereof, and of the whole of such original.

The "Ætna Insurance Company," of Hartford, Conn., having complied with the requirements of Sections One and Five of an act entitled "An act to regulate Insurance Companies not incorporated by the State of Wisconsin," approved March 17th, 1859; and having also paid into the State Treasury the sum of seventeen hundred, five and thirty-six one-hundredths dollars, being three per cent. upon the gross amount of premiums received in the State of Wisconsin in the year 1859, as per their report.

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the Act aforesaid, the Secretary of State of the State of Wisconsin hereby certifies that the said Ætna Insurance Company, of Hartford, when it shall have complied with the requirements of Section three of said Act, may take risks, receive premiums, and transact the business of an Insurance Company in this State from this date until the thirty-first day of January, A. D., 1861.

[L. S.] In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of Wisconsin, at the Capitol, in Madison, this twenty-eighth day of January, A. D. 1860.

State of Wisconsin, }
Secretary's Office. }

The Secretary of State of the State of Wisconsin hereby certifies that the foregoing Statement has been compared with the original instrument on file in this office and that the same is a true and correct copy thereof, and of the whole of such original.

The Home Insurance Company, of New York, having complied with the requirements of Sections one and five of an act entitled "An Act to regulate Insurance Companies not Incorporated by the State of Wisconsin," approved March 17, 1857, and having paid into the State Treasury the sum of seven hundred twenty-one and ninety-four one-hundredths dollars, being three per cent. upon the gross amount of premiums received in the State of Wisconsin in the year 1859, (as per report). Now therefore, in pursuance of the act aforesaid, the Secretary of State of the State of Wisconsin hereby certifies that the Home Insurance Company, of New York, when it shall have complied with the requirements of section three of said act, may take risks, receive premiums, and transact the business of an Insurance Company in this State from this date until the 31st day of January, A. D. 1861.

[L. S.] In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of Wisconsin at the Capitol in Madison, this twenty-eighth day of January, A. D. 1860.

Special Notices.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!

DON'T FAIL TO PROCURE MRS. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It has no equal on earth. It greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing inflamation—will allay all pain, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skilful Female Physicians in New England, and has been used with never failing success in millions of cases.

We believe it is the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or any other cause.

If life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, it is worth its weight in gold.

Millions of bottles are sold every year in the United States. It is an old and well tried remedy.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

☞ None genuine unless the fac simile of CURTIS & PARKER, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Office No. 13 Cedar street, New York.

Sold in Milwaukee by John Rice.

THE PUBLIC BLESSING WHICH IS now so universally admitted to exist in Moffat's Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters, is every day demonstrated by their astonishing efficacy in the cases which they are announced to cure. All the complaints of the stomach and bowels, weakness of the digestive organs and of the system generally, bilious and liver affections, night fevers, head aches, piles costiveness, consumption, rheumatism, scurvy, impurity of the blood, or blotched and sallow complexions, soon yield to their curative properties. A single trial invariably secures them the title of the best family medicine now before the public. For sale by the proprietor, W. B. MOFFAT, at his office, 335 Broadway, and by Store Keepers and Druggists generally.

THE RAVEN.

BY EDGAR A. POE.

Once upon a midnight dreary,
While I pondered, weak and weary,
O'er many a quaint and curious volume of forgotten lore,
While I nodded, nearly napping,
Suddenly there came a tapping,
As of some one gently rapping,
Rapping at my chamber door—
"'Tis some visitor," I muttered,
"Tapping at my chamber door—
Only this, and nothing more."

Ah! distinctly I remember,
It was in the bleak December,
And each separate dying ember
Wrought its ghost upon the floor;
Eagerly, I wished the morrow,
Vainly I had sought to borrow
From my books surcease of sorrow,
Sorrow for the lost Lenore,
For the rare and radiant maiden
Whom the angels name Lenore,
Nameless here for evermore.

And the silken, sad, uncertain,
Rustling of each purple curtain
Thrilled me—filled me, with
Fantastic terrors never felt before,
So that now to still the beating
Of my heart, I stood repeating,
"'Tis some visitor entreating
Entrance to my chamber door—
Some late visitor entreating
Entrance at my chamber door;
This it is, and nothing more."

Presently my soul grew stronger;
Hesitating then no longer,
"Sir," said I "or Madam, truly,
Your forgiveness I implore,
But the fact is, I was napping,
And so faintly you came tapping,
Tapping at my chamber door,
That I scarce was sure I heard you,"
Here I opened wide the door;—
Darkness there and nothing more.

Deep into that darkness peering,
Long I stood there wondering,
Fearing, doubting, dreaming
Dreams no mortal e'er dared to dream before,
But the silence was unbroken,
And the stillness gave no token,
And the only word there spoken
Was the whispered word "Lenore,"
Merely this and nothing more.
This I whispered, and an echo murmured back the word "Lenore."

Back into my chamber turning,
All my soul within me burning,
Soon again I heard a tapping,
Something louder than before.
"Surely," said I, "surely that is,
Something at my window lattice;
Let me see then, what there at is,
And this mystery explore;—
'Tis the wind and nothing more."

Open then I flung the shutter,
When, with many a flirt and flutter,
In there stepped a stately raven,
Of the saintly days af yore,
Not the least obeisance made he;
Not a minute stopped or stayed he,
But, with mien of lord or lady,
Perched above my chamber door—
Perched upon a bust of Pallas
Just above my chamber door,
Perched and sat, and nothing more.

Then this ebony bird beguiling,
My sad fancy into smiling
By the stern and grave decorum,
Of the countenance it wore,
"Though thy crest be shorn or shaven
Thou," said I, "art sure no craven,
Ghastly, grim and ancient Raven,
Wandering from the nightly shore,
Tell me what thy lordly name is,
On the night's Plutonian shore—"
Quoth the Raven "Nevermore."

Much I marvelled, this ungainly
Fowl, to hear discourse so plainly;
Though it's answer little meaning,
Little relevancy bore,
For we cannot help agreeing,
That no living human being
Ever yet was blessed with seeing—
Bird above his chamber door,
Bird or beast upon the sculptured bust above his chamber door,
With such a name as "Nevermore."

But the Raven, sitting lonely,
On that placid bust, spoke only
That one word, as if his soul
In that one word he did outpour,
Nothing farther then he uttered,
Not a feather then he fluttered—
Till I scarcely more than muttered
"Other friends have flown before,
On the morrow he will leave me
As my hopes have flown before;"
Then the bird said "Nevermore."

Startled, at the stillness broken
By reply so aptly spoken;
"Doubtless," said I, "what it utters
Is its only stock and store,
Caught from some unhappy master,
Whom unmerciful disaster,
Followed fast and followed faster,
Till his songs one burden bore—
Till the dirges of his hope
That melancholy bore,
Of Never—Nevermore."

But the Raven still beguiling
All my sad soul into smiling—
Straight I wheeled a cushioned seat,
In front of bird and bust and door;
Then upon the velvet sinking,
I betook myself to linking
Fancy into fancy, thinking what
This ominous bird of yore,
What this grim, ungainly, ghostly, gaunt and ominous bird of yore
Meant, in croaking
"Nevermore."

Thus I sat engaged in guessing,
But no syllable expressing
To the fowl, whose fiery eyes
Now burned into my bosom's core,
This and more I sat divining,
With my head at ease reclining
On the cushion's velvet lining,
That the lamp-light gloated o'er,
But whose velvet, violet lining,
With the lamp-light gloating o'er—
She shall press, ah, nevermore!

Then, methought, the air grew denser,
Perfumed from an unseen censer,
Swung by seraphim, whose footfalls
Tinkled on the tufted floor;
"Wretch," I cried, "thy God hath lent thee,
By these angels he hath sent thee,
Respite, respite and Nepenthe,
From thy memories of Lenore,
Quaff, oh quaff this kind Nepenthe
And forget this lost Lenore,"
Quoth the Raven, "Nevermore."

"Prophet," said I, "thing of evil!
Prophet still, if bird or devil—
Whether tempest sent, or whether
Tempest tossed thee here ashore,
Desolate, yet all undaunted,
On this desert land enchanted—
On this home by horror haunted;
Tell me truly, I implore—
Is there, is there balm in Gilead?
Tell me, tell, tell me I implore?"
Quoth the Raven, "Nevermore."

"Prophet," said I, "thing of evil,
Prophet still, if bird or devil,
By that heaven that bends above me,
By the God we both adore—
Tell this soul with sorrow laden
If, within the distant Aiden,
I shall clasp a sainted maiden,
Whom the angels called Lenore?"
Quoth the Raven "Nevermore."

"Be that word our sign of parting,
Bird or fiend!" I cried upstarting,
"Get the back into the tempest—
And the night's Plutonian shore,
Leave no black plume as a token
Of that lie thy soul hath spoken;
Leave my loneliness unbroken—
Quit the bust above my door!
Take thy beak from out my heart,
And take thy form from off my door."
Quoth the Raven "Nevermore."

And the Raven, never flitting,
Still is sitting, still is sitting
On the pallid bust of Pallas,
Just above my chamber door;
And his eyes have all the seeming
Of a demon that is dreaming;
And the lamplight o'er him streaming
Throws his shadow on the floor,
And my soul from out that shadow,
That lies floating on the floor,
Shall be lifted,
"Nevermore."

[Written expressly for the Daily Sentinel.]

TWENTY STEPS
TO ONE WOMAN'S HEART.

Before I had performed my ablutions Northeral came in.

"Well I'm blessed!" was his first exclamation. "Here I've been pricing cheap coffins, and making enquiries about the rates of burial, and you ar'nt dead, but set up on your pins as though no one had thought of pounding the life out of you. I'll be hanged if this ain't too much. If I had time, I'd shed a few tears of joy."

"No occasion for joy, my dear fellow," I responded as pleasantly as the nature of the circumstances would permit. "Look at my face."

"Somewhat furrowed, I'll admit, but so long as your pulse is right and your upper story firm, you can bear the joy—and what I have to tell you about the rest of this affair —which, perhaps, is the worst part of all."

"Proceed," I said. "I'm ready to hear anything, and promise you I'll not be excited."

"Well then, I've spent an hour this morning in trotting about to get a glimpse of our mutual friend, but he keeps earthed, and I only had the satisfaction of encountering the guv'ner, old Therber, who straddles a horse every morning and rides out to the Water Cure for physical reasons, and he gave me a note to you, and a very broad hint that henceforth our society, and especially yours, would be very disagreeable to the Therbers in general."

"There's nothing very astounding in that, certainly."

"That's because you don't understand it. When your head heals up, and your comprehension settles back in its old quarters, you will begin to see into matters and learn that your bully rival has circulated a report that you instituted a fight at the Iodine Spring yourself; covered yourself with disgrace and blood, and sneaked out of sight. Which report will be gratuitously inflated as it passes, and if society does'nt damn you, at least it will cut you—so I'm thinking!"

"So it ought to, were I to allow such a rumor to pass without contradiction."

"So you'll rush out with your bruised countenance and contradict it eh?" continued Jerry. "That would be a trick every way worthy of so cute a young man. Poke your Prussian blue eyes into the ladies faces and say—Do I look like a fighting man? Carry your bandage into the drawing rooms and use it for a text on your own noncombativeness. it would have the merit of being bold, would'nt it! but it would'nt operate well for your cause.

You must see, my precious example of the manly art, that this infernal scoundrel has an awful advantage over you—with the Therbers at least, and he'll use it, you had better believe."

"Then I am to understand there is no doubt of the authorship, that Hartington really is the man?"

"Well, I'm blessed," said Jerry, folding his arms and opening his great blue eyes until they resembled china saucers, "I never thought of it before, but it might have been old Therber himself, that punched you, and possibly—Blanche!"

"I know of no one but this Hartington, who could have any motive for assaulting me, Jerry, but I confess it's difficult for me to reconcile this dastardly proceeding with the usages of such society as he frequents. It is somewhat strange for a fashionable lover to have a rival pummelled to death now-a-days. Now that I'm dressed, if you will accompany me over to the 'Congress' I'll feel obliged."

"Don't do it!" said Jerry.

"But I shall," I repeated. "I wish to see Mr. Therber—you may accompany me or not—see him I will immediately." Saying which, I took the note Jerry handed me, and read it aloud:

"DEAR SIR:—The disgraceful circumstances of last night having been explained to me, you will see the propriety of my requesting you to discontinue your intimacy with my family. THERBER."

"Short and sweet—an epistolary bon bon," said Jerry, "obviating all necessity for any sweet interviews or further candied recriminations."

Despite Jerry's opposition I set out for the Congress and he accompanied me. We found Mr. Therber alone in one of the parlors, reading a New York paper. He looked up somewhat surprised to see me, inclined his head and resumed the paper.

I commenced an explanation of my visit, when he cut me short by saying—

"I presume, young man, you received my note."

"I did," I resumed, "but that note was written under circumstances which need explaining, and I demand, in justice to myself, that you hear what I have to say."

"If you have any authority by which you can attain your end, you had better produce it then," he continued, laying down the paper and removing his gold spectacles, "for I do not intend to listen to you, or stay in your company. Your conduct is already explained, and I can only repeat what I said to you this morning in the note." Saying which Mr. Therber walked out of the room, leaving Jerry and myself to follow at our leisure.

The next day the Therbers left the Springs and a few hours later, Jerry helped me pack my valise and we started for the city. When I returned to the office of Becklin & Flock, They insinuated having heard something derogatory to my character. Words ensued and I threw up the law in disgust. From that day I entered into the wildest of city life.—Having means enough, I became virtually during the three months that followed, as "fast" as the fastest. But in my heart there was hatching schemes of retribution. The flames of a wild passion would not go out, but seemed to increase with lack of fuel. I spent long hours in meditating plans of vengeance on Hartington, after the most approved modes of fiction. I went the whole round of fashionable life, but failed to encounter Blanche, and, after a rash sporting week on the Jersey Flats, I was laid up with the rheumatism, from which I have not yet recovered. And there you have, Chartsey, the whole of my love scrape.

When I rose from the sick couch, the internal man, I found, had undergone various modifications. I hated Hartington less intensely, and, probably, loved Blanche with a calmer and more human passion, that was kept down, smothered, by a great consciousness that it was all in vain."

"And now," said Chartsey, taking up his meerschaum, which had lain cold by his side for some time, "You tell yourself you have gained a mastery over the heavenly element, and don't care any more for Blanche than any other fine woman. I fear me, brave youth, you brought your constitution to a wrong climate when you reached Lazylake."

Just then the tinkle of Merlin's supper bell reached us and we adjourned to muffins and radishes and fragrant bohea.

BININGER'S OLD LONDON DOCK GIN

A. M. BININGER & CO.,
(ESTABLISHED 1778.)
SOLE IMPORTERS,
No. 338 Broad Street, New York.

THIS DELICIOUS TONIC, ESPECIALLY for the use of the

Medical Profession and the Family,

Possesses those INTRINSIC medicinal properties, [Tonic and Diuretic] which belong to an

OLD AND PURE GIN.

The business of manufacturing spurious Gins, and offering them as beverages, under the titles, "Aromatic," "Cordial," "Medicated," &c., has become so common that the public are justly suspicious of nearly everything that is offered under similar forms, and the trade has thus been brought into disrepute. It has remained for our house (established in 1778) to supply the pressing popular need, and to inaugurate a new era in the history of the Trade. We trust that our established reputation—founded upon eighty years of experience—abundantly vindicates our claim to public confidence.

N. B.

A comparison of "Bininger's [Old London Dock Gin" with others bearing similar names, will establish its superiority, and make other Caution unnecessary.

Put up in Quart Bottles, in Cases of one and two dozen each, and sold throughout the world by Druggists, Grocers, &c.

The Rev. Wm. Hosmer, editor of "The Northern Independent," Auburn, N. Y.; the Rev. E. H. Cressey, D. D., Rector of St. Peter's Church, of Auburn, N. Y.; the Rev. R. L. Ives, Chaplain of the Auburn State Prison; the Rev. Spencer M. Rice, Rector, New Bedford, Mass.; the Rev. Allen Steele, New York Conference; the Rev. Samuel Nicholas, East Genesee Conference, N. Y.; the Rev. P. S. Pratt, Dorset, Vt.; the Rev. John E. Roble, Buffalo; A. C. Hart, Esq., Utica, N. Y.; the Hon. Neal Dow, Portland, Me.; the Hon. Schuyler Colfax, South Bend, Ind.; the Hon. George Humphreys, N. Y.; Henry D. Cook, Esq., Editor of The Ohio State Journal, Columbus, Ohio; the Hon. R. H. Graham, Moline, Ill; the Hon. Thomas J. Chase, Monticello, Fla.; the Hon. Joseph Benedict, Utica, N. Y.; Wm. Bristol, Esq., Utica, N. Y.; A. S. Pond, Esq., Utica, N. Y.; James Plunkett, Esq., Nashville, Tenn.

LIST OF SPECIFIC REMEDIES.

No. 1.—For Fever, Congestion, and Inflammation.
No. 2.—For Worm Fever, Worm Colic, Wetting the bed.
No. 3.—For Colic, Crying, Teething, and Wakefulness of infants.
No. 4.—For Diarrhea, Cholera Infantum, and Summer Complaints.
No. 5.—For Colic, Gripings, Dysentery, or Bloody Flux.
No. 6.—For Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Vomiting.
No. 7.—For Coughs, Colds, Influenza, and Sore Throat.
No. 8.—For Tooth-ache, Face-ache, and Nuralgia.
No. 9.—For Headache, Vertigo, Heat and Fullness of the Head.
No. 10.—DYSPEPSIA PILLS.—For Weak and Deranged Stomach, Constipation, and Liver Complaint.
No. 11.—FOR FEMALE IRREGULARITIES, Scanty, Painful, or Suppressed Periods.
No. 12.—For Leucorrhea, Profuse Menses, and Bearing Down of Females.
No. 13.—For Croup, Hoarse Cough, Bad Breathing.
No. 14.—SALT RHEUM PILLS.—For Erysipelas, Eruptions, Pimples on the Face.
No. 15.—RHEUMATIC PILLS.—For Pain, Lameness, or Soreness in the Chest, Back, Loins, or Limbs.
A.—For Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Old Mismanaged Agues.
P.—For Piles, Blind or Bleeding, Internal or External.
O.—For Sore, Weak, or Inflamed Eyes and Eyelids; Failing, Weak, or Blurred Sight.
C.—For Catarrh, of long standing or recent, either with obstruction or profuse discharge.
W. C.—For Whooping Cough, abating its violence and shortening its course.

In all acute diseases, such as Fevers, Inflammation, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Croup, Rheumatism, and such eruptive diseases as Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Erysipelas, the advantage of giving the proper remedies promptly is obvious, and in all such cases the specifics act like a charm. The entire disease is often arrested at once, and in all cases the violence of the attack is moderated, the disease shortened, and rendered less dangerous.

Coughs and Colds, which are of such frequent occurrence, and which often lay the foundation of diseased lungs, bronchitis and consumption, may be at once cured by the Fever and Cough Pills.

In all chronic diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach, Constipation, Liver Complaints, Piles, Female Debility, and Irregularities, old Headaches, Sore or Weak Eyes, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, and other old eruptions, the case has specifics whose proper application will afford a cure in almost every instance.—Often the cure of a single chronic disease, such as Dyspepsia, Piles or Catarrh, Headache or female Weakness, has more than paid for the case ten times over.

Of the Nineteenth Century,
PROFESSOR WOOD'S
HAIR RESTORATIVE.

SAYS THE ST. LOUIS, (MO.) DEMOCRAT: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic.—Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, MAINE, Jan. 20, 1855.

Professor O. J. Wood & Co:

GENTLEMEN: Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty-two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly, yours, A. C. RAYMOND.

Baltimore, Jan. 23, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood—Dear sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure. FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally loved. WM. DYER.

Brookfield, January 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir, Having made a trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion and retails for $3 a bottle.

D. B. DeLAND & CO.'S
!!CHEMICAL SALERATUS.

"THE VERY BEST ARTICLE OF Saleratus now in use. Much has been said of the injurious effect of Saleratus upon the health, but nothing can be more harmless than perfectly pure Saleratus when properly used. THIS Saleratus IS PERFECTLY PURE and is refined by a process entirely OUR OWN, by which all impurities are removed.

!! DEALERS AND CONSUMERS EVERYWHERE!!

Please try it. It is warranted in all cases or no sale." Also!! D. B. De LAND & CO'S "Double Refined saleratus is far superior to most other brands of Saleratus now in use.

"Consumers of Saleratus should be careful to get that having the name of D. B. De LAND & Co. on the wrapper, as they will thus obtain a strictly pure article. These brands of Saleratus are for sale by the "principal Grocers in this City and Dealers generally throughout the United States and Canadas."

Special Notices.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!

DON'T FAIL TO PROCURE MRS. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It has no equal on earth. It greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing inflammation—will allay all pain, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful Female Physicians in New England, and has been used with never failing success in millions of cases.

We believe it is the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or any other cause.

If life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, it is worth its weight in gold.

Millions of bottles are sold every year in the United States. It is an old and well tried remedy.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

☞ None genuine unless the fac simile of CURTIS & PARKER, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Office No. 13 Cedar street, New York.

Sold in Milwaukee by John Rice. je15itl9dw&twly

THE PUBLIC BLESSING WHICH IS now so universally admitted to exist in Moffat's Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters, is every day demonstrated by their astonishing efficacy in the cases which they are announced to cure. All the complaints of the stomach and bowels, weakness of the digestive organs and of the system generally, bilious and liver affections, night fevers, head aches, piles costiveness, consumption, rheumatism, scurvy, impurity of the blood, or blotched and sallow complexions, soon yield to their curative properties. A single trial invariably secures them the title of the best family medicine now before the public. For sale by the proprietor, W. B. MOFFAT, at his office, 335 Broadway, and by Store Keepers and Druggists generally. oct18d&twly

THE RAVEN.

BY EDGAR A. POE.

Once upon a midnight dreary,
While I pondered, weak and weary,
O'er many a quaint and curious volume of forgotten lore,
While I nodded, nearly napping,
Suddenly there came a tapping,
As of some one gently rapping,
Rapping at my chamber door—
"'Tis some visitor," I muttered,
"Tapping at my chamber door—
Only this, and nothing more."

Ah! distinctly I remember,
It was in the bleak December,
And each separate dying ember
Wrought its ghost upon the floor;
Eagerly, I wished the morrow,
Vainly I had sought to borrow
From my books surcease of sorrow,
Sorrow for the lost Lenore,
For the rare and radiant maiden
Whom the angels name Lenore,
Nameless here for evermore.

And the silken, sad, uncertain,
Rustling of each purple curtain
Thrilled me—filled me, with
Fantastic terrors never felt before,
So that now to still the beating
Of my heart, I stood repeating,
"'Tis some visitor entreating
Entrance to my chamber door—
Some late visitor entreating
Entrance at my chamber door;
This it is, and nothing more."

Presently my soul grew stronger;
Hesitating then no longer,
"Sir," said I "or Madam, truly,
Your forgiveness I implore,
But the fact is, I was napping,
And so faintly you came tapping,
Tapping at my chamber door,
That I scarce was sure I heard you,"
Here I opened wide the door;—
Darkness there and nothing more.

Deep into that darkness peering,
Long I stood there wondering,
Fearing, doubting, dreaming
Dreams no mortal e'er dared to dream before,
But the silence was unbroken,
And the stillness gave no token,
And the only word there spoken
Was the whispered word "Lenore,"
Merely this and nothing more.
This I whispered, and an echo murmured back the word "Lenore."

Back into my chamber turning,
All my soul within me burning,
Soon again I heard a tapping,
Something louder than before.
"Surely," said I, "surely that is,
Something at my window lattice;
Let me see then, what there at is,
And this mystery explore;—
'Tis the wind and nothing more."

Open then I flung the shutter,
When, with many a flirt and flutter,
In there stepped a stately raven,
Of the saintly days of yore,
Not the least obeisance made he;
Not a minute stopped or stayed he,
But, with mien of lord or lady,
Perched above my chamber door—
Perched upon a bust of Pallas
Just above my chamber door,
Perched and sat, and nothing more.

Then this ebony bird beguiling,
My sad fancy into smiling
By the stern and grave decorum,
Of the countenance it wore.
"Though thy crest be shorn or shaven
Thou," said I, "art sure no craven,
Ghastly, grim and ancient Raven,
Wandering from the nightly shore,
Tell me what thy lordly name is,
On the night's Plutonian shore—"
Quoth the Raven "Nevermore."

Much I marvelled, this ungainly
Fowl; to hear discourse so plainly;
Though it's answer little meaning,
Little revelancy bore.
For we cannot help agreeing,
That no living human being
Ever yet was blessed with seeing—
Bird above his chamber door,
Bird or beast upon the sculptured bust above his chamber door,
With such a name as "Nevermore."

But the Raven, sitting lonely,
On that placid bust, spoke only
That one word, as if his soul
In that one word he did outpour,
Nothing farther then he uttered,
Not a feather then he fluttered—
Till I scarcely more than muttered
"Other friends have flown before,
On the morrow he will leave me
As my hopes have flown before;"
Then the bird said "Nevermore."

Startled, at the stillness broken
By reply so aptly spoken;
"Doubtless," said I, "what it utters
Is its only stock and store,
Caught from some unhappy master,
Whom unmerciful disaster,
Followed fast and followed faster,
Till his songs one burden bore—
Till the dirges of his hope
That melancholy bore,
Of Never—Nevermore."

But the Raven still beguiling
All my sad soul into smiling—
Straight I wheeled a cushioned seat,
In front of bird and bust and door;
Then upon the velvet sinking,
I betook myself to linking
Fancy into fancy, thinking what
This ominous bird of yore,
What this grim, ungainly, ghostly, gaunt and ominous bird of yore
Meant, in croaking
"Nevermore."

Thus I sat engaged in guessing,
But no syllable expressing
To the fowl, whose fiery eyes
Now burned into my bosom's core,
This and more I sat divining,
With my head at ease reclining
On the cushion's velvet lining,
That the lamp-light gloated o'er,
But whose velvet, violet lining,
With the lamp-light gloating o'er—
She shall press, ah, nevermore!

Then, methought, the air grew denser,
Perfumed from an unseen censer,
Swung by seraphim, whose footfalls
Tinkled on the tufted floor;
"Wretch," I cried, "thy God hath lent thee,
By these angels he hath sent thee,
Respite, respite and Nepenthe,
From thy memories of Lenore,
Quaff, oh quaff this kind Nepenthe
And forget this lost Lenore,"
Quoth the Raven, "Nevermore."

"Prophet," said I, "thing of evil!
Prophet still, if bird or devil—
Whether tempest sent, or whether
Tempest tossed thee here ashore,
Desolate, yet all undaunted,
On this desert land enchanted—
On this home by horror haunted;
Tell me truly, I implore—
Is there, is there balm in Gilead?
Tell me, tell, tell me I implore?"
Quoth the Raven, "Nevermore."

"Prophet," said I, "thing of evil,
Prophet still, if bird or devil,
By that heaven that bends above me,
By the God we both adore—
Tell this soul with sorrow laden
If, within the distant Aiden,
I shall clasp a sainted maiden,
Whom the angels called Lenore?"
Quoth the Raven "Nevermore."

"Be that word our sign of parting,
Bird or fiend!" I cried upstarting,
"Get the back into the tempest—
And the night's Plutonian shore,
Leave no black plume as a token
Of that lie thy soul hath spoken;
Leave my loneliness unbroken—
Quit the bust above my door!
Take thy beak from out my heart,
And take thy form from off my door."
Quoth the Raven "Nevermore."

And the Raven, never flitting,
Still is sitting, still is sitting
On the pallid bust of Pallas,
Just above my chamber door;
And his eyes have all the seeming
Of a demon that is dreaming;
And the lamplight o'er him streaming
Throws his shadow on the floor,
And my soul from out that shadow,
That lies floating on the floor,
Shall be lifted,
"Nevermore."

TWENTY STEPS

TO ONE WOMAN'S HEART.

Before I had performed my ablutions Northeral came in.

"Well I'm blessed!" was his first exclamation. "Here I've been pricing cheap coffins, and making enquiries about the rates of burial, and you ar'nt dead, but set up on your pins as though no one had thought of pounding the life out of you. I'll be hanged if this ain't too much. If I had time, I'd shed a few tears of joy."

"No occasion for joy, my dear fellow," I responded as pleasantly as the nature of the circumstances would permit. "Look at my face."

"Somewhat furrowed, I'll admit, but so long as your pulse is right and your upper story firm, you can bear the joy—and what I have to tell you about the rest of this affair—which, perhaps, is the worst part of all."

"Proceed," I said. "I'm ready to hear anything, and promise you I'll not be excited."

"Well then, I've spent an hour this morning in trotting about to get a glimpse of our mutual friend, but he keeps earthed, and I only had the satisfaction of encountering the guv'ner, old Therber, who straddles a horse every morning and rides out to the Water Cure for physical reasons, and he gave me a note to you, and a very broad hint that henceforth our society, and especially yours, would be very disagreeable to the Therbers in general."

"There's nothing very astounding in that, certainly."

"That's because you don't understand it. When your head heals up, and your comprehension settles back in its old quarters, you will begin to see into matters and learn that your bully rival has circulated a report that you instituted a fight at the Iodine Spring, yourself; covered yourself with disgrace and blood, and sneaked out of sight. Which report will be gratuitously inflated as it passes, and if society does'nt damn you, at least it will cut you—so I'm thinking!"

"So it ought to, were I to allow such a rumor to pass without contradiction."

"So you'll rush out with your bruised countenance and contradict it eh?" continued Jerry. "That would be a trick every way worthy of so cute a young man. Poke your Prussian blue eyes into the ladies faces and say—Do I look like a fighting man? Carry your bandage into the drawing rooms and use it for a text on your own noncombativeness; it would have the merit of being bold, would'nt it! but it would'nt operate well for your cause.

You must see, my precious example of the manly art, that this infernal scoundrel has an awful advantage over you—with the Therbers at least, and he'll use it, you had better believe."

"Then I am to understand there is no doubt of the authorship, that Hartington really is the man?"

"Well, I'm blessed," said Jerry, folding his arms and opening his great blue eyes until they resembled china saucers, "I never thought of it before, but it might have been old Therber himself, that punched you, and possibly—Blanche!"

"I know of no one but this Hartington, who could have any motive for assaulting me, Jerry, but I confess it's difficult for me to reconcile this dastardly proceeding with the usages of such society as he frequents. It is somewhat strange for a fashionable lover to have a rival pummelled to death now-a-days. Now that I'm dressed, if you will accompany me over to the 'Congress' I'll feel obliged."

"Don't do it!" said Jerry.

"But I shall," I repeated. "I wish to see Mr. Therber—you may accompany me or not—see him I will immediately." Saying which, I took the note Jerry handed me, and read it aloud:

"DEAR SIR:—The disgraceful circumstances of last night having been explained to me, you will see the propriety of my requesting you to discontinue your intimacy with my family. THERBER"

"Short and sweet—an epistolary bon bon," said Jerry, "obviating all necessity for any sweet interviews or further candied recriminations."

Despite Jerry's opposition I set out for the Congress and he accompanied me. We found Mr. Therber alone in one of the parlors, reading a New York paper. He looked up somewhat surprised to see me, inclined his head and resumed the paper.

I commenced an explanation of my visit, when he cut me short by saying—

"I presume, young man, you received my note."

"I did," I resumed, "but that note was written under circumstances which need explaining, and I demand, in justice to myself, that you hear what I have to say."

"If you have any authority by which you can attain your end, you had better produce it then," he continued, laying down the paper and removing his gold spectacles, "for I do not intend to listen to you, or stay in your company. Your conduct is already explained, and I can only repeat what I said to you this morning in the note." Saying which Mr. Therber walked out of the room, leaving Jerry and myself to follow at our leisure.

The next day the Therbers left the Springs and a few hours later, Jerry helped me pack my valise and we started for the city. When I returned to the office of Becklin & Flock, They insinuated having heard something derogatory to my character. Words ensued and I threw up the law in disgust. From that day I entered into the wildest of city life.—Having means enough, I became virtually during the three months that followed, as "fast" as the fastest. But in my heart there was hatching schemes of retribution. The flames of a wild passion would not go out, but seemed to increase with lack of fuel. I spent long hours in meditating plans of vengeance on Hartington, after the most approved modes of fiction. I went the whole round of fashionable life, but failed to encounter Blanche, and, after a rash sporting week on the Jersey Flats, I was laid up with the rheumatism, from which I have not yet recovered. And there you have, Chartsey, the whole of my love scrape.

When I rose from the sick couch, the internal man, I found, had undergone various modifications. I hated Hartington less intensely, and, probably, loved Blanche with a calmer and more human passion, that was kept down, smothered, by a great consciousness that it was all in vain."

"And now," said Chartsey, taking up his meerschaum, which had lain cold by his side for some time, "You tell yourself you have gained a mastery over the heavenly element, and don't care any more for Blanche than any other fine woman. I fear me, brave youth, you brought your constitution to a wrong climate when you reached Lazylake."

Just then the tinkle of Merlin's supper bell reached us and we adjourned to muffins and radishes and fragrant bohea.

Spalding's Prepared Glue!
"A Stitch in Time saves Nine."
ECONOMY!
Dispatch!
Save the Pieces!

AS ACCIDENTS WILL HAPPEN EVEN in well regulated families, it is very desirable to have some cheap and convenient way for repairing Furniture, Crockery, Toys, &c.

SPALDING'S PREPARED GLUE

Meets all emergencies, and no household can afford to be without it. It is always ready and up to the sticking point. There is no longer a necessity for limping chairs, splintered veneers, headless dolls and broken cradles. It is just the article for cone shell and other ornamental work, so popular with ladies of refinement and taste.

This admirable preparation is used cold, being chemically held in solution, and possessing all the valuable qualities of the best cabinet maker's glue. It may be used in the place of ordinary mucilage, being vastly more adhesive.

BININGER'S
OLD LONDON DOCK
GIN
A. M. BININGER & CO.,
(ESTABLISHED 1778.)
SOLE IMPORTERS,
No. 338 Broad Street, New York.

THIS DELICIOUS TONIC, ESPECIALLY for the use of the
Medical Profession and the Family,
Possesses those INTRINSIC medicinal properties, [Tonic and Diuretic] which belong to an
OLD AND PURE GIN.

The business of manufacturing spurious Gins, and offering them as beverages, under the title "Aromatic," "Cordial," "Medicated," &c., has become so common that the public are justly suspicious of nearly everything that is offered under these names, and the trade has thus been brought into discredit. It has remained for our house (established in 1778) to supply the pressing popular need, and to inaugurate a new era in the history of the Trade. We trust that our established reputation—founded upon eighty years of experience—abundantly vindicates our claim to public confidence.

N. B.
A comparison of "Bininger's Old London Dock Gin" with others bearing similar names, will establish its superiority, and make other Caution unnecessary.

Put up in Quart Bottles, in Cases of one and two dozen each, and sold throughout the world by Druggists, Grocers, &c.

GREAT WONDER
Of the Nineteenth Century,
PROFESSOR WOOD'S
HAIR RESTORATIVE.

SAYS THE ST. LOUIS, (MO.) DEMOCRAT: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks gloriously of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

RAHAT-EE-LOKOOM, CUEPDARE, OR Turkish Fig Paste, and Grape Paste, for sale by EDWARD TRUSLOW, Wholesale Dealer in Foreign Fruits, oct18 191 East Water st.

COMMERCIAL.

FRIDAY EVENING, February 3d, 1860.

Commercial.

Receipts by Railroad for the 24 hours ending noon to-day include:

Flour, bbls	566	Hides, No	57
Wheat, bus	6,107	Butter, firkins	16
Oats, bus	548	Hogs, No	5
Sundries, lbs	11,240	Hay, lbs	9,240

The wheat market became more settled to-day, the foreign news published this morning not possessing any very stimulating qualities, and holders were more inclined to meet the views of buyers. There were sales of some nine thousand bushels No. 1 at 95@95½c on the track, and at $1 for delivery in store March 1st. Extra was dull and had a downward tendency. No sales were reported; $1,02 would probably be the outside figure millers would pay for the best samples. Flour is still dull and unsettled, the trade being confined to the wants of local dealers. There have been for some time orders on the market for considerable quantities of flour, but the prices are limited to a point somewhat below the present views of buyers—say $4,25@4,50 for fair to choice country Spring Extras. There is not much doing in coarse grains. The quotations are: Oats 33c in store, 34@35c delivered; Ear corn 50c, shelled 55c; Barley 55@65c for common to Extra; a small lot of No. 1 sold at 62½c; Rye 50@55c. Timothy seed experienced a slight reaction, and $2,65 was an outside figure, though one lot of prime seed went as high as $2,75. There is a good demand for all the hides coming in at the quotations given in our report of sales.

Dressed hogs continue firm, at a range of $6,00 to $6,40 for averages of 170 to 250 lbs. Provisions of all kinds are also firm. Sales to-day include 100 bbls Mess Pork at $16,50; 114 bbls Rumps at $12.

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—Receipts, flour, 553 bbls; wheat, 4055 bush; corn 27837 bush; oats 1720 bush; rye 260 bush; barley 569 bush.

The receipts of hogs, live and dressed, to-day amounted to 1,671, and the market for both kinds were buoyant and somewhat excited. Dressed hogs were in active demand at an advance of fully 10c on yesterday's prices—sales being made at a range of $6,25@6,75.—Hogs averaging 300 lbs and upwards sold readily at 6,50@6,62½. Live hogs also were in active request, and one lot of extra heavy hogs brought 5,65 gross—the highest prices paid this season.

In provisions we have to report a very quiet though firm market. There are buyers of mess pork at 16,50; but the small amount offering is held at 17,00. In this market, therefore, we have no sales to report. By a telegraph dispatch, we learn that 2,000 bbls mess pork were sold at 17,00, to be delivered at Naples, on the Illinois river. Bulk meats are also very scarce, and there is little to be had at any price. There is, however, a demand at 6½c and 8½c packed for shoulders and sides. Lard is also scarce and in good demand at 10c.

The flour market continues heavy and inactive.—Wheat declined ½c, and closed heavy, with sales at 96½@97½c for No. 1 spring in store. In corn also buyer had advantage, and the market fell equal to ½c No. 1 selling at 47½@48½c; No. 2 at 44@44½c; and rejected at 41½@42. Oats declined 1c, with sales at 35c in store, and 36@36½c in bags on track. Rye is steady at 50@56c. Barley more active and a shade easier, No. 1 being sold at 58@60c in store. Timothy seed was in good supply, and under a more limited demand the market fell 5@10c, the range of sales being at 4,75@4,80 Clover seed was dull and inactive, with heavy offerings and scarcely any inquiry. Highwines are also dull and heavy—low proof wines selling at 20c, and closing dull at that.—Press & Tribune.

MILWAUKEE DAILY MARKET.

FRIDAY EVENING, Feb. 3d—7 P. M.

FLOUR—Market dull and unsettled. Sales 11 bbls Rye flour, of an inferior quality at $4.

WHEAT—Receipts a little better. Sales 2,350 bus No. 1 Spring on the track and in store at 95c; 900 bus do at 95½c; 5,000 bus do deliverable March 1st in store at $1; 350 bus Extra on p. t.; 150 bus White Winter at $1,12½.

OATS—No sales reported. The quotations are 33c in store and 34@35c delivered.

CORN—Ear 50c; Shelled 55@56c. Sales 80 bus shelled at 55c. Some parties ask as high as 57c for very nice shelled corn.

BARLEY—Dull and no buyers for common qualities.—The range of prices is about 55 to 65c for common to Extra; sales 175 bus No. 1 at 72½c.

RYE—Is quoted nominally at 50@55c.

GRASS SEED—A shade lower. Sales 100 bus good Timothy seed at $2,50; 135 bus do at $2,65; 20 bus prime at $2,75.

POTATOES—Selling at 50@60c, according to quality.

EGGS—Worth 12c by the barrel.

HIDES—Green frozen 6¼@6½c; green salted 7@7½c; dry salted 11@12c; dry flint 13@14c.

PROVISIONS—Firm. Sales 100 bbls Mess pork at $16,50; 114 Rumps at $12.

The Great Secret at Last Discovered!!

JUNIUS JUDSON,

PATENTEE AND MANUFACTURER OF

JUDSON'S PATENT

GOVERNOR VALVES,

FOR REGULATING THE

MOTION OF STEAM ENGINES,

WARRANTED THE MOST PERFECT Governor of Steam Power in the world, and like all really great inventions, the most simple. Manufactured by Judson & Snow, at Rochester, N. Y., Selye Buildings, near R. R. Depot.

☞ Shop Rights for sale.

CAUTION TO INFRINGERS.

Patent issued in the United States, Nov. 5th, 1850. Reissued, Jan. 4th, 1851. Second Patent, March 4th, 1851. Patented also in Great Britain and the Canadas, June 6th 1851.

This improvement consists in making regulating valves to open with a rapidly increasing ratio of opening, by increasing the width of the opening made in the valve—or by accelerating the opening motion of the ordinary valves in use—or by combining increased width of opening, with accelerated valve motion. My patent Valves and Governors are so arranged as to give the resistance to the piston's motion, (or retard of the engine,) the power to open the valve just the exact amount of aperture necessary to counteract that resistance; and from the aperture, by the addition of equal amounts of resistance, notwithstanding that the action of the governor is continually decreasing in its effects.

I therefore reverse the action of valves combined with governors, as heretofore used. And as this effect can be produced by many different mechanical devices, (apparently not similar, but really indentical with my improvement,) by which infringers have imposed upon the public, I therefore caution and request all persons interested, to examine carefully all alleged improvements in valves or governors, to see if the application of this truth or principle, first discovered and applied by me, is not involved in their arrangements;—and thereby prevent a fraud upon the purchaser and inventor, both of which are at present much annoyed by their piratical depredations. H. H. BRIGHTMAN, Agent, Milwaukee.

EAGLE STEAM FOUNDRY,

WEST WATER STREET, MILWAUKEE.

The Oldest Establishment in the State.

TURTON & SERCOMB.

MANUFACTURERS OF FLOUR, SAW and other Mill Gearing, together with Castings of all descriptions, Steam Engines of the latest improvements, Brass and Composition work.

Also manufacturers of the celebrated Haviland & Tuttle Water Wheel. It uses less water, in proportion to the power given, than any other wheel manufactured. It is adapted to either high or low heads of water, runs perfectly steady, and is not affected by ice or back-water. It has given general satisfaction to all who have used it, and that, together with its durability, gives it an entire superiority over all other wheels. Descriptive circulars, with reference, forwarded on application.

CITY LAND OFFICE.

VALUABLE PROPERTY WILL BE exchanged for a good Farm. That new Brick Hotel, "The Phelps House," corner of Chestnut and Fourth streets, Second Ward, lot 75 by 150. The building is four stories, with stores on first floor; House contains some fifty rooms. The said "Phelps House" is situated in center of business, on principal business street in Second Ward. Will exchange the above property for a good Farm and lands near some village where there are schools for children. Or will give a lease for five or ten years on said House at a low rent and exchange the furniture for a small Farm and Stock. Mr. Phelps is at present keeping the House. His health being such that he cannot give it that attention the business requires, is the reason why he offers to make the exchange.

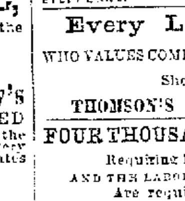
SOYER'S SULTANA'S SAUCE.

For Hot and Cold Dishes of all Kinds.



THIS MOST DELICIOUS and appetising Sauce, invented by the renowned "SOYER," for the London Reform Club, is, since his decease, manufactured by the well known house of CROSSE & BLACKWELL, London, from the original recipe. It is the favorite sauce in England and on the Continent, with a high and growing reputation among American Epicures, and is much approved of as a stimulant to the appetite and aid in digestion.

Opinions of the London Press.

"We recommend our correspondent to try Mons. Soyer's new Sauce, entitled the 'Sultana's Sauce.' It is made after the Turkish recipe; its flavor is excellent, and it affords considerable aid in cases of SLOW AND WEAK DIGESTION."—The Lancet.

DIAPERS, &C.—CONSUMERS OF RICHARDSON'S LINENS, and those desirous of obtaining the GENUINE GOODS, should see that the articles they purchase are sealed with the full name of the firm, J. N. RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN, as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods.

This caution is rendered essentially necessary, as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared, season after season and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON, by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted alike on the American consumer and the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.

PITTSBURG, FT. WAYNE & CHICAGO R. R

NOW COMPLETED TO CHICAGO.

THIS NEW AND DIRECT ROUTE IS now open to New York, Boston, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington City, Cleveland, Dunkirk, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and all Eastern Cities; Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Springfield, Urbana, Zanesville, Steubenville, Newark and Wheeling, and all interior towns of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey, &c., making one grand unbroken Railroad line between

CHICAGO AND THE EAST.

FARE AS LOW AS ANY OTHER ROUTE.

☞ Passengers wishing to go by this desirable and pleasant Route, should be particular and ask for Tickets by Fort Wayne, avoiding the annoyance of re-checking baggage as by other routes.

Trains leave the depot on VAN BUREN ST., daily as follows:

:15 A. M., Morning Mail and Express.
7:25 P. M., Night Express.

CHECKING BAGGAGE THROUGH

To Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York. Connecting directly with trains on the great Pennsylvania Central Railroad, to all Eastern cities. Also, with the Cleveland & Columbus R. R. to Cleveland, Dunkirk, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, via New York Central and New York and Erie Railroads to New York and Boston.

Persons going East will find this route by far the most desirable, both from the advantage in point of distance, variety and beauty of the country through which the roads pass, and the less frequent changes of cars, and the annoyance of re-checking baggage required by other routes.

Facilities for the transportation of Freight and Live Stock by this route, are unsurpassed. Rates as low as any other route, and with equal dispatch.

Tickets for sale at all the principal ticket offices at the West, and at the Company's office, No. 30 Dearborn St., opposite the Tremont House, Chicago, and at the Union Ticket office, No. 230 East Water St., Milwaukee.

CIRCUIT COURT, MILWAUKEE COUNTY. In the matter of the application of Charles Quentin, Esq., on behalf of Barbara Emilie Alexandra Offensandt and Jacob Wilhelm Offensandt, to take the deposition of certain witnesses in Germany in order to perpetuate their testimony as against all persons.

On reading and filing the petition and statement of Charles Quentin on behalf of Barbara Emilie Alexandra Offensandt and Jacob Wilhelm Offensandt, for the taking of the depositions of Elisabetha Offensandt, nee Von Berkholz, Dr. Carl Brumm and Adolph Haldenwang, and to perpetuate their testimony as against all persons, and asking that a commission may be issued upon certain interrogatories annexed to said petition, to Mr. Carl Conrad Kuntz, President of the Grand Ducal Circuit Court at Baden in Germany, or such other person as this Court may direct, for the purpose of taking such depositions:

It is ordered, that the application for the issuing of said commission be heard in this Court, at the Court House, in the City of Milwaukee, on Wednesday, the 14th day of March, 1860, at 11 o'clock A. M., and that notice of the hearing of such application be published for six weeks, at least once in each week, in the DAILY SENTINEL, a newspaper printed in the City and County of Milwaukee, by publishing a copy of this order in said newspaper.

January 24th, 1860

By the Court,
ARTHUR McARTHUR, Judge.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.

MR. KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, HAS discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures

EVERY KIND OF HUMOR,

FROM

THE WORST SCROFULA DOWN TO A COMMON PIMPLE.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, both thunder humor. He has now in his possession over one hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will cure the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the stomach.

Three or five bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three or four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

ROXBURY, Mass.

DEAR MADAM:—The reputation of the Medical Discovery, in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established, by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skillful physicians and the most careful druggists in the country are unanimous in its praise.

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice, I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers in relieving all, and curing most of the diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable. That most excruciating disease to an affectionate mother.

NURSING SORE MOUTH,

is cured as if by a miracle; your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your babe from short and fretful naps to calm and sweet slumbers; and the Medical Discovery becomes a fountain of blessings to your husband and household.

In the more advanced stages of

CANKER

it extends to the stomach, causing

DYSPEPSIA

which is nothing but canker on the stomach; then on the intestines and creating a sinking, gone feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Your stomach is

RAW AND INFLAMED,

your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds, and even of that your system does not get half the nourishment it contains, as the acrimonious fluid of the canker eats it up; then your complexion loses its bloom and becomes sallow or greenish, and your best day is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes loose and flabby, and the fibres of your body become relaxed. Then follows a train of diseases which the Medical Discovery is peculiarly adapted to

CURE;

Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weakness of the spine and small of the back, pain of the hip-joint when you retire, irregularity of the bowels, and also that most excruciating of diseases the

PILES.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their next door neighbor does not know the cause. I wish to impress on your mind that good old proverb, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." In the

MEDICAL DISCOVERY

you have both the preventative and the cure, with this great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you an injury. Yours truly,

DONALD KENNEDY.

DR. CHURCHILL'S REMEDY.

WINCHESTER'S GENUINE PREPARATION OF THE

HYPOPHOSPHITES

OF LIME AND OF SODA,

(Made from the Formula of Dr. J. F. Churchill,)

FOR THE PREVENTION AND CURE OF

CONSUMPTION!

THE SUCCESS OF THIS NEW REMEDY, (discovered by Dr. Churchill, of Paris,) is obtaining the most UNBOUNDED POPULARITY throughout Europe and the United States. It is a purely SCIENTIFIC PREPARATION, and acts with INVARIABLE EFFICACY in all stages of Pulmonary and Nervous Diseases.

This Remedy has not only a curative effect, but will, if used wherever there exists a suspicion of the disease, PREVENT ITS DEVELOPMENT, and thus act, as a preservative with regard to Consumption, just as vaccination does with regard to small pox.

What the Medical Profession Say.

"In no instance have I found the Remedy to fail."—Dr. Churchill.

"I have used your preparation of the Hypophosphites with the most happy effect."—C. Fisher, M. D., Lyleville, Ill.

"I have been astonished in witnessing the good effects of the Hypophosphites. The statements in your pamphlet are not at all exaggerated. My patient was just entering the last stage of tubercular consumption."—S. Moses, M. D., Hoosic Falls, N. Y.

"They exert an important remedial influence over the tubercular disease by improving the nervous strength and invigorating the nutritive functions."—Dr. W. E. Best, Morristown, N. J.

"I have derived more satisfaction from the use of your Hypophosphites than from all other forms of medication combined."—Dr. Geo. W. Maris, Columbus, O.

"If, on the earliest appearance of the symptoms, the patient takes daily about ten grains of the Hypophosphites, he will speedily find himself in the enjoyment of such health as he, perhaps, had never known in his life before."

"Winchester's Hypophosphites are unexceptional in their preparation."—Am. Druggists' Circular.

"Mr. Winchester is worthy of all confidence and devotes himself enthusiastically to these preparations in all their variety of combination. * * * Prepared strictly by Dr. Churchill's method."—D. Meredith Reese, M. D., New York.

"LOWELL, O., July 5, 1859.—I have had several cases given up by attending physicians who are now exempt from all the symptoms of pulmonary disease.—I have used the Remedy in my own case, with decided success. It was regarded as hopeless by physicians and friends, and even by myself, under the 'old treatment.' I am now able to ride, in attending the sick, as many miles, perhaps, in a day, as any other physician in the country."—W. F. Clark, M. D.

"The Hypophosphites are most appropriate Remedies in large class of affections resulting from loss of nervous force."—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

Dr. Churchill's Work on Consumption,

IS NOW READY.

The Hypophosphites may be used with incurable success in Chronic Bronchitis, Asthma, Dyspepsia, and in all "Nervous" Disorders.

Make no Delay!

Consumptives, in any stage of the disease, should resort immediately to the use of the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. "Winchester's Genuine Preparation" (in simple syrup), in extra large bottles, is "chemically pure"; is the combination proposed by Dr. Churchill "for general use"; and is prepared according to his original Formula.

For sale, Wholesale and Retail, by HENRY FESS, Jr., Milwaukee, who is authorized to supply THE TRADE at New York prices.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

THROUGH A TRIAL OF many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat.—The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is knawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick everywhere may have before them the information it contains.—Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four-fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards, might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the Headache, Heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because the stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your Stomach and Bowels need strengthening into healthy action.—Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healthy activity which you can feel as quickly as they are taken.—They are the one great medical wonder of the age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a cough, and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

Prepared by JAMES C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass., and sold by JOHN RICE, Milwaukee, J. H. REED & CO., Chicago, and all Dealers in Medicine everywhere.
